Preface

This history book is an update of the 75th edition published in 2005. With the completion of this history book, I have been associated with the FFA for 47 years. From the painted green hand as a freshman in Clyde Park High School under the guidance of advisors Jim Lewis and Roger King to Professor of Agricultural Education at Montana State University, it has been a wonderful experience. The writing of this history has brought back lots of great memories and stories. I hope my experiences have not filtered out information that is important to others. If I have missed something that is important in the history, please write it down and get it to Jim Rose, State Advisor, so it can be included in the 100 year history.

A special thanks to Bill Jimmerson who put together the video of the 75 years of history. We hope you will use the DVD to remember and learn from our past.

Thanks to Taylor Brown, Northern Broadcasting System, Shawn Fladager, KMON radio in Great Falls for their efforts in making the public aware of Montana FFA and the 75th anniversary, to Stockman Bank for their financial contribution in developing the print by Don Graytak and making the history publication possible. Thanks to Don Owen, who did his Masters Degree paper on the History of Montana Agricultural Education, Marjorie Peura and Fanny Gordon secretaries to the State FFA Advisor. Thanks to Leonard Lombardi for his efforts in producing the Montana Fiftieth Anniversary, which served as a starting point for the 75 year history. And a special thanks to all those who contributed pieces of history, or reviewed and edited the final drafts. Just like a successful FFA Chapter, it takes the efforts of many to reach a successful conclusion. Those individuals included in the development of this publication include: Terry Wolfe, Chairman of the 75th Committee; Bev Tompers, former FFA Executive Secretary; Bill Jimmerson, former FFA State Advisor; Dane Dugan, Tyler Wiltgen and Raylee St. Onge, FFA Foundation Development Officers; Bob Anderson, FFA Alumni Secretary/Treasurer; David Hall, former OPI Ag Education Specialist; Marty Frick, former professor of Agricultural Education and Agricultural Operations Technology; and Mike Cavey, former agriculture instructor. A special thanks to my wife Connie who helped with the editing and review and for the patience and understanding during this long process.

The forward of the 50 years of history follows, for without the information contained in the 50th Anniversary publication this edition would be incomplete.

This history of the Montana Association of Future Farmers of America covers the period from 1930, the year the Montana FFA Association received a state charter, to the present. There probably could not have been a better time for the revision and publication of the Montana History than on the occasion of Montana FFA's Golden Anniversary. We hope this history will serve as a reminder to FFA's "Golden Past" and as solid foundation for an even brighter future.

Reflecting on the history of the Montana Future Farmers of America over the past fifty years, one can readily see the growth and accomplishments of individuals and chapters within the Montana Association of FFA. The many years of devoted service of FFA advisors have contributed immeasurably to the success of the FFA.

As one delves further into this history you will see the names of members which represent the third generation of a family involvement in Montana FFA. This family involvement and commitment to the ideals and principles of the Future Farmers has contributed greatly to the stability of FFA for the past fifty years.

Much of the credit for the history contained herein should go to Basil C. Ashcraft, former state FFA advisor; Miss Marjorie Peura, former agriculture education secretary, for the research and publication of the original history, and to Mrs. Fanny Gordon, my secretary, for her hard work and dedication to this publication.

Leonard Lombardi – Retired State FFA Advisor

The 2004-05 State Officers receiving the 75th print from Don Graytak. The print was unveiled at the 2005 State Convention. Prints were sold by the Montana FFA Foundation. A donation by Stockman Bank made it possible to hire Don to produce the print. Dave Phillips, former State Officer and Fergus Country Extension Agent chaired the print sub-committee.

THE TWELFTH STATE FFA CONVENTION ASSEMBLED IN THE GYM AT THE GALLATIN COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL ON APRIL 30, 1941.

Wonder what we are up to? Look closely at the back of our FFA Jackets, and notice the name of the chapter is above the emblem. To learn who suggested the change, read the history inside.

Do you like my FFA Jacket? Manson Bailey of Glasgow was the high individual in the 1937 State FFA Livestock judging.

FFA: 75 Years in Review

The accomplishments and awards that are listed in the 75 years of Montana FFA History would not have occurred if it were not for many hardworking dedicated teachers of agriculture and supportive families and communities. Agriculture teachers have dedicated their lives to helping young people succeed in FFA and in life. Their rewards have been watching young boys and girls wearing the blue and gold develop into outstanding young adults and leaders. Also, it is reassuring to see family names reappearing generation after generation throughout the 75 years. The values and skills learned while in FFA are those same values that parents want their children to have. For family support you need to look no further than the Andres family of Missoula, where five members of the family became Montana State FFA Officers and one was a State Officer in Wyoming. Or the Cascade community where winning a Career Development Event became the expectation of the FFA Chapter.

Henry E. Robinson of Kalispell was the role model that many teachers tried to follow. Henry taught vocational agriculture in Montana for 45 years. His last 40 years were at Kalispell, where the Ag Center bears his name. The Kalispell Ag Center is located on the former county poor farm that Henry and the students turned into a productive 80 acre farm that is run and managed by the Kalispell Chapter today.

When Henry was asked about his philosophy of teaching, he replied. "It has been said the God created all men equal. I am not sure of that statement. I feel God gave every person something he can excel in, something he will be happy in doing, something from which he can earn a living and derive a lot of satisfaction. The Future Farmers of America has helped thousands to find themselves and get a good start in a productive and rewarding life. I am probably biased, but I feel vocational agriculture and FFA are one of the best ways to develop leadership, citizenship, communication, establish credit and other qualities that help young people get started in a successful life." (September, 1981 Issue, Montana Future Farmer)

The first State Supervisor of Vocational Agricultural Education was M. J. Abbey. He began as Supervisor in 1919 after having served as Montana 4-H Club leader from 1916-19. Under his leadership the number of vocational agriculture programs grew from nine in 1918 to twenty-six in 1929. He saw the first set of state officers elected; Major Danzie, president, Dillon; Dallas Ferry, vice president, Moccasin; Austin Sutton, secretary, Cascade; and Ralph Price, treasure, Kalispell.

The first unofficial FFA Chapter in Montana was at Moccasin. The chapter was organized in 1928 with the chapter constitution being adopted on January 9, 1929. However, after the state association was organized and local charters issued, the Moccasin Chapter did not receive the No. 1 Chapter. The president of the FFA was Basil Ashcraft, Maurice Zimmerman, vice-president, and Orville Huchison, secretary. The instructor was Earnest DeAlton.

The first official Chartered FFA Chapter was started at Miles City under the guidance of Harry Hoffman. He later was called the Dean of Montana Vocational Agriculture. Mr. Hoffman came to Montana and took over the Vocational Agriculture Department at Custer County High School in the fall of 1923 and taught there until 1953. During his years at Miles City, four of his Future Farmers became American Farmers and two held national offices. Harry Hoffman, passed away at Miles City on November 19, 1953.

On April 1st, 1930, the Montana Association of Future Farmers of America was granted Charter Number 38 by the National Future Farmers of America Organization. The charter was signed by President Wade Turner and Executive Secretary Henry C. Groseclose. The charter chapters were: Belt Valley, Belt; Big Sandy; Big Timber; Gallatin, Bozeman; Browning; Cascade; Chinook; Teton, Choteau; Conrad; Deer Lodge; Beaverhead, Dillon; Glasgow; Wheatland, Harlowton; Highwood; Joplin; Flathead, Kalispell; Fergus, Lewistown; Manhattan; Custer, Miles City; Missoula; Moccasin; Opheim; Simms; Broadwater, Townsend; Aqua Expendo, Valier; and Whitehall. Most of the twenty-six chapters adopted a program of work and carried out an FFA program which met the approval of the National Organization. J.E. Border, was instrumental in bringing the loosely organized "Ag Clubs" in to the Future Farmers of America. He was the first State Advisor and served as the State advisor until 1937. Herschel D. Hurd served as State advisor for nine months, and was replaced by A.W. Johnson in 1937.

It was at the third National Convention, 1930, that Leonard Eliason of Deer Lodge was elected Montana's first American Farmer. Leonard was an outstanding agricultural student before the Montana Association of FFA was organized, and with the advent of the new organization did much to build it up in his own chapter at Deer Lodge, in the State Association and the National Organization. He was the first reporter of the Montana Association and the next year was elevated to president.

An example of what early vocational agriculture supervised experience projects were like is illustrated in the accomplishment of Raleigh Barlow. In May, 1931, Raleigh Barlow of Simms, and five others, were awarded the State Farmer degree. At that time, Raleigh owned two Holstein heifers and 26 pigs, rented 11 acres of land for sugar beets, and had supervision of 103 acres of land and livestock thereon. His total labor income from his projects amounted to $2,640.00, and investments in livestock and other assets totaled $1,955.00. That fall, Raleigh was elevated to American Farmer at the fourth National FFA Convention.

Community involvement has always been a vital part of FFA. In 1932-33, the Deer Lodge Chapter was responsible for a campaign directed against gophers. They distributed poison grain at cost and offered prizes. The tails of 30,050 gophers were turned in during the three year campaign. Such gopher campaigns lasted into the 1960's as many youth earned five cents a gopher tail.

Montana FFA members influence on the National FFA in the early years is indicated by having five National officers between 1933 and 1957. In 1933, Montana FFA had their first national officer, Robert P. Stewart; Miles City was elected second vice-president. In 1942, Roy Dee Meyer, Fairfield was elected fourth vice-president. Bob Barthelmess, Miles City, was selected as the 4th VP in 1943. Bill Michael, Jr., Billings was elected third vice president in 1948 and Roger "Pete" Knutson, Miles City was elected vice president in 1954. After those early years, it wasn't until 1991 when Michael Stevenson, Hobson was elected secretary. The last National officer from Montana was Chase Rose from Shields Valley. Chase was selected as the Central Region Vice-President in 2010.

An example of the early influence is still present today. As the story is recalled from Bill Jones, Dupuyer, who was the first Montana boy to become an agriculture teacher in 1937. The first FFA jackets had the town or chapter above the emblem. At the National convention it was impossible to know where those chapters or towns were located, so he and others introduced the concepts of putting the state name above the emblem and the town or chapter below the emblem.

On March 1, 1936, Mr. Lou Howard founded the Montana FFA Band with only ten members. Mr. Howard's last public appearance with the band was in June of 1959 when he conducted the Montana FFA Band at the State FFA Leadership Conference. For his years of dedication he was rewarded by the State Association with a trip to the National FFA Convention. While at the convention in Kansas City, Lou said, "This trip simply took all the linen off the rose bushes. I can't begin to tell you what a wonderful vacation was staged for me. After eighteen years of band work with the FFA band my dream came true - a trip to Kansas City and the wonderful convention." Mr. Howard also recalled that, in 1889, when Montana was admitted to the Union, "I blew the bugle announcing the news when the governor's telegram from Helena reached Butte. Then we fired a cannon."

A State FFA Chorus was organized for the first time and was an important part of the 1949 convention. The chorus was directed by Conrad Sandvig of Montana State College. Since that time, the Montana FFA Chorus has made sporadic appearances. In the 1990's both the chorus and band performed at State Convention. The last appearance by the Band and Chorus is believed to be 1996.

Many current Career Development Events are organized and conducted by the MSU Collegiate FFA. A collegiate chapter of FFA was temporarily formed at Montana State University in Bozeman. Plans were made for a permanent organization and charter for 1938. Membership was opened to include all former FFA members and majors in the Department of Agricultural Education. This group was to act as an active intermediary between local FFA chapters and the State Association, giving Montana FFA more publicity, acquaint incoming FFA members with problems common to college frosh, and edit the Montana Future Farmer paper. The Chapter did not succeed and went dormant in 1942. James Schultz, President, reorganized the Collegiate FFA chapter in 1945.

Due to World War II, the State FFA Convention was not held in 1945. The State Officers met and conducted the business of the Association. However, FFA members were busy supporting the war effort by selling bonds during the Sixth War Loan Drive. As a result, individual Future Farmers purchased $27,137.20 worth of bonds, and sold $21,207.90 in bonds to other people in the many communities throughout the state. The chapter purchasing the largest amount of bonds was Medicine Lake, with Stanford second, Lewistown third, and Kalispell fourth

As one of the Montana Association Charter Chapters, Browning left a historical mark on the early years. The 1946 State convention saw the awarding of the first Montana Star Farmer award to Winslow Devereaux of Browning. Winslow served as State fourth vice president in 1947-48. In 1952 Ron Norman of Browning was also the Star State Farmer. Between 1946 and 1960, Browning Chapter FFA members received the State Farmer Degree every year except in 1955 and 1958.

In 1946 the Browning Chapter danced at the National Convention. Traveling 1,600 miles by bus from Browning to Kansas City, the Indian Future Farmers from Browning took with them three tepees, tepee poles and priceless Indian costumes of many kinds. The large audience in the Municipal Auditorium, which seated 16,000, was awed to silence throughout the magnificent and impressive Indian ceremony. To the tune of tom toms and Indian chanting, and with spectacular lighting effects, colorful headdresses and costumes, the Browning Indian Future Farmers went through a performance of giving thanks to the "Great Spirit" for a plentiful supply of buffalo grass which would make the buffalo fat.

In 1949, for the first time in the history of the Montana Association, our state public speaking winner, Burton Bosch of Chinook, went on to win the regional prepared speaking event. He went on to become the National FFA Public Speaking winner. The topic of his speech was, "Foul, But You Can Eat and Drink It," and it dealt with the growing problem of water pollution.

On November 1-3, 1951, officers from 58 chapters attended the first state-wide officers' training school held in Helena. Officer training changed from a state wide event to District Leadership Schools. District Leadership schools serve as an opportunity for State FFA officers to develop their skills and to pass those skills onto the local chapter officers.

In 1953, the Browning Chapter was again invited by special request to take part in the 25th National Convention anniversary celebration in Kansas City. The delightful feature of the convention was the Buffalo

Grass Dance performed by members of the Browning Chapter. Taking part in the dance were Gordon Whitegrass, Kenneth Old Person, Joe Littlebull, Mike Little Dog, Wayne Bear Medicine, Curtis Bullchild, Leo Kennerly, Jr., Gary Douglas, Leroy Pepion, Bob Stillsmoking, Wilson Roy and Jim Hanson. They were accompanied to Kansas City by their advisor, R. W. Harris, and school bus driver, Jim Fisher.

In November, 1954, Orvin B. Fjare, former Future Farmer from Big Timber, was elected to the United States Congress, representing Montana's second congressional district. While no other Montana FFA member that has been identified, has served in a Congressional or Governorship position, two former State FFA Officers and agriculture teachers have served Congress in other ways. Brain Cavey, who taught at Arlee and Fairfield became Senator Max Baucus's Chief of Staff. Clark Johnson, long time Wolf Point instructor currently works for Senator Conrad Burns as Chief of Staff.

After twenty-four years as State Advisor of the Montana Association, A. W. Johnson retired on September 1, 1961. Mr. Johnson's career began in 1926 when he started teaching vocational agriculture at Choteau. He went to Deer Lodge in 1928 and spent eleven years there building up one of the finest chapters in the Nation. He was named State Supervisor of Vocational Agricultural Education in 1937, and became the State Director of Vocational Education in 1950. Mr. Johnson passed away on November 27, 1970 and is buried in Deer Lodge. The A. W. Johnson traveling Star Greenhand plaque was established in his honor. Mr. Johnson was succeeded in 1961 by a native of Gallatin Gateway, Montana, Max L. Amberson.

For a number of years the National Farm Film foundation created films of the four FFA Star Farmers of America, one from each region. These films were used extensively by many teachers to create the desire in all of their students to achieve the coveted award of American Farmer Degree. Terry Wolfe and Van Shelhamer both recall being inspired by watching and learning about Henry Nagamori, Loma, Fort Benton Chapter and his farming operation which earned him one of the four Stars as the Star Farmer of the Pacific Region in 1961. Dan Mizner of Deer Lodge also won that coveted award in 1939. In 1991, Randy Bogden, Cascade was named the Western Region Star in Agribusiness for his work in the family meat packing business. In 2002, Tyrele Schaff from the Stillwater Valley earned star finalist honors in the area of Agriculture Placement. The most recent American Star Finalist from Montana was Connor Rose from Shields Valley who earned star distinction in the area of Agriculture Placement in 2013.

One of the traditions that State FFA Officers in the 1960's looked forward to was serving as an usher at the State Fair night show and meeting the headline performers. Being introduced on stage and sometimes participating in the show was a great experience. FFA was a big part of the State Fair in Great Falls. FFA had their own building to display their projects, there were contests in livestock judging, soils judging and range judging. In addition, 32 glass enclosed booths were around the outside of the Agriculture Building. Chapters were paid $200 to put in a display. Much of the credit for the State Fair involvement must be credited to Floyd Cranston, who was the first Superintendent of the FFA exhibit and vocational agriculture teacher at Belt High school for 40 years. The Billings fair also provided space for FFA members to display their projects and compete in livestock judging.

Montana FFA has a connection to the Olympics. Lt. Lones Wigger, Jr., a member of the Fort Benton FFA chapter from 1951 to 1955 won a gold and a silver medal in small bore free rifle events at the 1964 Olympic games held in Tokyo. In 2003, State Convention attendee's were inspired by U.S. Olympic gold medal winner, Rulon Gardner. Rulon was the 2000 Greco-Roman wrestler who beat Australia Kerelin of Russia, who had gone unbeaten for 13 years in international competition. Rulon was from Wyoming

In 1965, those Montana FFA members who took the long train ride from Montana to Minneapolis and then south on the Rock Island Rocket saw history in the making. The New Farmers of America, the vocational agriculture student organization for Blacks, was united with the Future Farmers of America. Watching the exchange of jackets between the two National Presidents brought tears to your eyes and pride to your soul. The New Farmers had many similarities with the FFA. Their colors were black and gold and the cotton boll was the center of their symbol rather than the cross-section of an ear of corn.

During the 1960's many Collegiate FFA members served as chaperones to FFA members on the train and airplane ride to the National convention in Kansas City. The author's first National FFA Convention was serving as a Chaperone with State FFA Advisor; Basil Ashcraft. During that period of time, local chapters could send two FFA members with the State Association. Few Montana teachers attended the convention with their FFA members unless they took a team to compete in a National Career Development Events.

The first recorded international involvement by Montana FFA was when Robert Bold, State FFA Parliamentarian, 1968-69, made a twenty-one day study tour of Europe. The group was composed of Future Farmers from various parts of the United States. Countries visited included England, West and East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Austria. The following year Stan Matovich of Columbus was selected for membership in the Musical Friendship Tour. He was chosen as a result of his participation in the National FFA band. The group toured Mexico.

In 1969, girls were officially admitted into the National FFA Organization. However, many girls across the country and in Montana had broken the barrier and were enrolled in vocational agriculture and FFA on the local level. The blue corduroy jacket was adopted as official dress for girls. The jackets were to be the same as for the boys except somewhat longer and tailored for girls. Girls were also authorized to wear the same blue blazer as boys with tailoring for style. The color and style of skirt or slacks were to be decided by the individual member.

It is almost predictable that the State Star Greenhand will end up as a State Officer. As an example, Cindy Klessens Luoma was the first female Star State Greenhand in 1972. Cindy became the first female state officer in 1975 and the first Montana trained female to become a teacher of Agricultural Education in the State in 1979. A mention of Cindy's name to her former Advisor Henry Haagenstad brings a glow to his face.

Cindy was not the first female agriculture teacher in Montana. She was preceded by Donna Berg, a Colorado State University graduate who started the vocational agriculture program in Melstone in 1977. Together they paved the way, which was not always easy in a male dominated profession, for many other females. In 2005, there are 24 females teaching in 75 Montana programs. It wasn't until 1981 that Valerie Stevenson Carr became the first female from Montana to earn her American FFA Degree.

The Montana FFA Alumni Association held an organizational meeting in conjunction with the State Leadership Conference at a luncheon on April 8, 1971. George Larson, Miles City, was named chairman; Ross Massar, Sheridan, vice chairman; Thomas D. Tietz, Bozeman, secretary-treasurer; Harold E. Stepper, Rapelje, and Dan Lantis, Sheridan, were directors. The first annual meeting of the National FFA Alumni Association was held at the 1972 National FFA Convention in Kansas City. When the presentation of the state charters was completed, forty states had chartered a State FFA Alumni Association. George Larson received the Montana state charter. Montana was the twelfth state to receive a charter.

Luther Lalum, vocational agriculture teacher at Flathead High School, Kalispell, was elected President of the National Vocational Agriculture Teachers' Association at the 26th Annual Convention of the NVATA held in New Orleans, Louisiana, December 6-11, 1974. Luke and his teaching partner Henry Robinson had developed a FFA chapter that was recognized nationally. Ten years earlier, the Flathead FFA Chapter had received the National Gold Chapter Award twenty one straight times. They received a silver award in 1965, only to return to the Gold award in 1966. That started a string of National Gold Chapter awards that stretched for a long time. Since the start of the Star Chapter Awards in 1955 to 2005, the Kalispell Chapter has received a Superior award every year except 1976 when it appears no application was submitted. No other Montana Chapter is close to having that level of achievement in the Chapter Awards program.

In 1974, Mr. James Schultz, who reorganized the Collegiate FFA, was one of five teachers to receive The National Vocational Agricultural Teachers' Association Agriculture Teacher Recognition Award. It was because of the combined efforts of Taylor Brown and Mr. Schultz that Taylor was able to win the 1974 National FFA Beef Production Award.

Mr. Schultz was one of the teachers that utilized the Flying Classroom, which took vocational agriculture classes on flying trips of their local community while studying soil conservation. About the flying classroom, Dean Robertson, Malta said, "We accomplished more in today's two hours in the air than we could have done during the day-long identification trip by car or bus" (1961). You might say this group of teachers and pilots started the idea of remote sensing being used in Montana agriculture today.

The 1980's saw the adoption of a set rotation for the State FFA Convention. The rotation adopted at the 1985 conventions was Great Falls, Bozeman, Billings, Bozeman, and Great Falls. At the 1987 delegate session, the Meats CDE was added to the Sweepstakes Contest. Two years later, 1989, the delegates removed the word "Farmer" from the Montana Future Farmers of America Constitution and replaced it with "FFA". They also eliminated the State FFA Sweetheart and replaced it with the American Royal Ambassador program.

The 1990's were filled with a number of leadership changes and changes to the organization structure. In 1993 the quarterly magazine produced by the Montana FFA was renamed. The name was changed from the Montana Future Farmer to the Montana FFA Reporter. The Legend, a daily newspaper about activities of the State convention was started by Lauri Wilcox Olson, a former state FFA officer. Working with FFA members from various chapters interesting and personal stories were written and included in the paper. The Conrad FFA became the Chapter that provided the software and computer knowledge to produce an excellent member newspaper.

The later 1990's and early 2000's saw a rapid increase in the number of State Career Development events (CDE). Also changed was the idea of all State CDE's being held at the State Convention. Local chapters now organize and conduct a number of CDE'S where the State winner is determined. In 1992, the Sales and Service CDE, organized by Bill Jimmerson of Conrad and Wendy McKamey of Cascade, was added and quickly became one of the more popular FFA contests. In 1999, the Creed Speaking contest was added. In 2002, the Ag Issues CDE was conducted for the first time. In 2004 the Job Interview CDE was added and Horse Evaluation was added in 2005. Between 2005 and 2016 several CDE's were implemented, these included; Floriculture, Food Science, Ag Communications, Marketing Plan, Vet Science, Forestry, Junior Creed, and Conduct of Chapter Meetings. The Ag-Days Poster contest has become the qualifying event for the National FFA's Agri-Science competition.

Today's Collegiate FFA does many of the same activities as proposed when it was organized in 1938. Collegiate FFA members work with State officers and local chapters to produce the FFA Legend, organize and conduct State FFA Career Development Events. In the 1970-80's Collegiate members prepared all of the district Career Development test and agronomy plant and soils samples.

State Convention is as much about competition as it is being selected as a state officer. It is the final opportunity for FFA members to demonstrate their knowledge and skills. One Agricultural Education Department stands out when the number of individual and team Gold awards are examined. Cascade has been the perennial power chapter. The records included in this history reveal that Cascade has, at the State level, 119 Gold team awards and 96 individuals earning a gold award. The next closest chapter, Shields Valley has 67 team gold awards, while individuals from Flathead have 48 gold awards. Most of the achievement of the Cascade FFA can be contributed to Duane Gebhardt, George Franko, and Frank LaLiberty. The community played an important role in providing resources and opportunities for members to excel. The community set high expectation for these members and they responded. On winning the team sweepstakes, Agronomy and Livestock CDE's in 1978, the bus carrying the Chapters from Glacier District, was met at midnight in Wolf Creek, and the Cascade FFA members were escorted to Cascade with sirens and flashing lights of the fire and police force and community members.

The competitive desire instilled by the Cascade teachers is carried on by Jim Rose, a Cascade graduate. As the teacher at Shields Valley, Mr. Rose has the chapter ranked second in terms of State gold awards in CDE's. The competitiveness exhibited by Duane Gebhardt likely came from his grandfather, William "Army" Armstrong, who taught at Simms and Fairfield and was known for his ability to win contests.

FFA is an intra-curricular part of the agricultural education curriculum. It is not an extra-curricular activity that occurs after school. Using an old farm analogy, FFA is one leg of the three legged milk stool. The other two legs are; 1) classroom and laboratory instruction and 2) supervised agriculture experiences, commonly known as projects. The stability of the stool is dependent on the strength of each leg.

To insure that the classroom and laboratory legs of the stool were solid, Max Amberson and Doug Bishop, in the 1970-80's, led the way into identifying what should be included in the Montana Agricultural Education curriculum for secondary programs. Hundreds of interviews with agriculture producers and agribusiness managers led to a list of competencies, skills, knowledge, concepts and attitudes that should be taught. Untold hours of labor by these two leaders and teachers led to thousands of pages of lessons plans that help teachers in providing quality instruction so that FFA members could achieve at a higher level. In 1990, a Carl D. Perkins grant from the Montana Office of Public instruction led to the creation of The Montana Leadership Council for Montana Agricultural Education. Members of that Council were appointed by the Montana Governor Stephens, and Superintendent of Public Instruction Nancy Keenan. Leadership Council members were Duane Burkenpas, Belgrade, Chairman, Warren Jones, Harlowton, Wayne Milmine, Miles City. Misti Peterson, State FFA President, Livingston, Toby Schule, Kalispell, Paul Stenerson, Conrad with Van Shelhamer acting as Council Coordinator. The Council made 13 recommendations which brought about a number of changes.

The most visible change was the recommendation to change the name from Vocational Agriculture to Agricultural Education, as the Council felt that the term vocational was a stigma to recruiting students into the program. A second recommendation was that Agricultural Education be expanded into the junior high school as many students were not being exposed to the opportunities that existed in agriculture. They also recommended that agricultural concepts should be taught in every K-12 school in the state. The recommendation of modernizing the Montana Agricultural Education curriculum resulted in Van Shelhamer providing the leadership in updating and adding new lessons to the Montana Agricultural Education curriculum developed by Amberson and Bishop. Utilizing the experience of Wayne Gilman-Dillon, Randy Violet-Colstrip, Jim Rose-Shields Valley, Brad King-Stevensville, and Duane Gebhart-Cascade a revised competency list was developed. The new competency list called for new or revised lesson plans, which were developed by practicing teachers and distributed to Montana Agricultural Education programs to insure that FFA members were receiving instruction on the latest technological innovations.

As State FFA Advisor, Leonard Lombardi put FFA and Agricultural Education first in his heart and mind, while receiving pressure from his administration to spend more time on other tasks. Upon Leonard's retirement, an opportunity to change the role of State FFA Advisor was evident. Concerned over the loss of leadership for FFA , an effort was mounted by the Montana Agricultural Teachers Education Association and Van Shelhamer, acting State Agricultural Education Specialist, to secure legislative resources to create a half time Executive FFA Secretary and to move the office of the Agricultural Education Specialist to the Montana State University Campus. Thanks to the efforts of Don Holland, Representative from Forsyth, Taylor Brown and other supporters, the effort was successful. In the fall of 1997, Dr. David Hall State FFA advisor and Agricultural Education specialist and Sandra Thibault (Germann) opened the new office on the second floor of Linfield Hall, Montana State University. Part of the vision was to increase the Montana FFA Foundation resources to help support the FFA Executive Secretary. As a result the FFA Foundation was officially incorporated and now has a part time Executive Director. Two years after the legislative action, an additional legislative allocation was made, creating a full time FFA Executive FFA Secretary.

In 2015, Agricultural Education is taught in 89 public schools in Montana by 96 teachers. FFA enrollment is at 5,271 members, this dramatic increase is due mainly to Montana FFA's decision to affiliate in 2014. There are more opportunities than ever for FFA members to participate in and gain new knowledge and skills. There are communities wanting to add Agricultural Education to their schools, even under tight school budgets. The biggest challenge that seems to be facing Montana FFA is the recruitment of individuals to become agriculture teachers. The challenges of working with youth and the long hours required to be an effective teacher are barriers in the recruitment of teachers. However, the rewards and ability to change people's life with FFA are worthy of such a rewarding profession.

Your participation in the 85th State Leadership conference is greatly appreciated. You experienced the largest Montana FFA State Convention to be held. There are more activities and Career Development Events going on than ever before. The State Convention has almost out grown the capacity of any facility in the state to house the convention. Eight state officers now provide the leadership which was once provided by ten officers. The lighting and technology side of the convention continues to grow as does the enthusiasm and pride of FFA members. If you are impressed by the State Convention, you should make the opportunity to participate in a National FFA Convention, held in Louisville or Indianapolis, considering the year you attend.

Montana FFA History

The Future Farmers of America was organized in Montana in 1929 at the Annual Livestock Judging Contest with Mr. M. J. Abbey, State Supervisor of Vocational Agricultural Education, as advisor. At this time, state officials were elected and a tentative program was sent out to the various schools teaching agriculture, asking each instructor to organize a chapter of the Future Farmers of America to take the place of the Agricultural Club, which was then in existence in all of the schools. The officers elected were: Major Danzie, Dillon, president; Dallas Ferry, Moccasin, vice president; Austin Sutton, Cascade, secretary; Ralph Price, Kalispell, treasurer. Very little information was available to assist the instructors in carrying out this program, and resulted in no permanent organization during the school year.

In the fall of 1929, Mr. J. E. Border succeeded Mr. M. J. Abbey as State Supervisor of Vocational Agricultural Education. His major objective that first year was the organization of a 100% Future Farmer organization. During the fall of 1929 and spring of 1930 he made personal visitations to all schools receiving reimbursement under the Smith-Hughes Act and discussed with the Agricultural Clubs the aims and objectives of the Future Farmer organization. In all cases these groups agreed to adopt the constitution of the National Organization.

On April 1st, 1930, the Montana Association of Future Farmers of America was granted Charter No. 38 by the National Organization. The charter was signed by President Wade Turner and Executive Secretary Henry C. Groseclose. The charter chapters were: Belt Valley, Belt; Big Sandy; Big Timber: Gallatin, Bozeman; Browning; Cascade; Chinook; Teton, Choteau; Conrad; Deer Lodge; Beaverhead, Dillon; Glasgow; Wheatland, Harlowton; Highwood; Joplin; Flathead, Kalispell; Fergus, Lewistown; Manhattan; Custer, Miles City; Missoula; Moccasin; Opheim; Simms; Broadwater, Townsend; Aqua Expendo, Valier; and Whitehall. Most of the twenty-six chapters adopted a program of work and carried out an FFA program which met the approval of the National Organization.

The first annual meeting of the Montana Association was held in the assembly room of the Engineering Building, Montana State University (at that time, Montana State College), Bozeman, April 30th, 1930, with delegates present from all of the schools represented at the Annual Livestock Judging Contest.

At this time, ten members were elected to the State Farmer Degree: James Staff, Chinook; Leonard Eliason and Jerry Ringtead, Deer Lodge; Dan Pendergast and James Melton, Beaverhead at Dillon; Earl Fritz and William DeYoung, Flathead at Kalispell, Garland Eaton and Wayne Monte, Miles City; and Harold Peterson, Polson. The officers of the year before were not eligible for State Farmer Degrees, but were elected to the Honorary State Farmer Degree, as they had served so well in getting the Montana Association of FFA organized and chartered.

1931 was the first full year of life for the Montana Association of Future Farmers of America. New chapters were installed, the Yellowstone Chapter at Billings with Z. G. Hudgin as advisor, a chapter at Cardwell with William Armstrong as advisor, and one at Denton with Ralph Cline as advisor. Although active membership failed to increase, the chapters were put on a firmer base with a total of twenty-nine chapters and 443 active members.

J. E. Border, state advisor, represented the association at the 1930 National FFA Convention in Kansas City. It was at this third National Convention that Leonard Eliason of Deer Lodge was elected Montana's first American Farmer. Leonard was an outstanding agricultural student before the Montana Association of FFA was organized, and with the advent of the new organization did much to build it up in his own chapter at Deer Lodge, in the State Association and the National Organization. He was the first reporter of the Montana Association and the next year was elevated to president.

After graduation from high school he continued his education at Montana State University in Agricultural Economics, graduating in the class of 1936. He had an outstanding record in both scholarship and other activities, including a berth on the high place livestock judging teams at the Pacific International and the International at Chicago. He was a member of the Alpha Zeta and Les Bouffons, honorary fraternities, student senate, and a leader in his social fraternity. Leonard has served as one of Montana's county extension agents and is now ranching in the Deer Lodge area. The National Association made no mistake when Leonard Eliason was elevated to the American Farmer Degree.

The State FFA Convention was held in May in conjunction with High School Week on the campus of Montana State College, Bozeman.

1931-32

Membership nearly doubled in the association during the year ending June 30, 1932. New chapters were installed; Musselshell, Ryegate, and Judith Basin at Stanford. This brought us to a total of thirty-two chapters in the association, and increased our membership from 358 to 719. The charter of the Big Timber Chapter was revoked as they did not have enough members to fill chapter offices. They have rechartered following reorganization under a new advisor. Polson Chapter remained "not in good standing" as they paid no dues.

The association was represented at the northwest FFA meeting in Portland, Oregon during the Pacific International Livestock Show by Don Valiton, Deer Lodge, who gave the Montana report. Choteau and Deer Lodge chapters had livestock judging teams.

Montana's official delegates at the Fourth National Convention, November 14-19, 1931 were Howard Eliason and Raleigh Barlow. It was at this convention that Raleigh Barlow of Simms was elevated to American Farmer.

At the time of his election to State Farmer in May, 1931, Raleigh owned two Holstein heifers and 26 pigs, rented 11 acres of land for sugar beets, and had supervision of 103 acres of land and livestock thereon. His labor income from his projects from 1928 to 1939 amounted to $2,640.00, and investments in livestock and other assets totaled $1,955.00.

He held responsible offices and won numerous prizes in school and other activities. After graduation from high school he attended Utah State Agricultural College, where he was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship for study at Oxford University in England.

The Third Annual State Convention in Bozeman, April 29-May 1, 1932 was attended by sixty-six official delegates and one hundred forty other active Future Farmer members.

1932-33

New chapters for the year ending June 30, 1933 were the Pend d'Oreille Chapter at Polson and Huntley Project at Worden. Scobey Chapter received a charter later in the year, and the Pend d'Oreille Chapter changed their name to Polson Chapter.

Robert Stewart of Miles City and Jack Otten of Lewistown represented Montana at the Fifth National Convention in Kansas City, November 11-17, 1932. Jack was also a member of the Montana livestock judging team which placed second in the National Livestock Judging Contest at the American Royal Livestock Show and National Congress of the Future Farmers of America.

Deer Lodge Chapter received a $400.00 award for placing first in the National Chapter Contest of 1932. The report was submitted by President Howard Eliason and Advisor A. W. Johnson. The thirty-four members came from all four classes in high school, and, in general, were above average in scholastic standing. While the average number of projects per boy was limited to one, total labor income was $2,818.60, or an average of $82.90 per boy.

The chapter rendered much service to the community, sponsored a garden club in the community for the purpose of lessening the burden of the depression and improving family living. The chapter purchased a second-hand school bus to maintain for use in field trips or other necessary travel in connection with FFA activities. The chapter was also responsible for a campaign directed against gophers and by distributing poison grain at cost and offering prizes. The tails of 30,050 gophers were turned in during the three year campaign.

Members of the chapter participated in many events indicating leadership ability in contests, school work and various agricultural organizations.

The Judith Basin District Association was formed during the year, with five chapters as members; Judith Basin, Stanford, Moccasin, Denton, and Fergus at Lewistown.

FFA radio broadcasts grew in popularity, with broadcasts made from stations at Great Falls, Butte, Kalispell and Missoula. Participating chapters were Fergus, Simms, Moccasin, Judith Basin, Teton, Conrad, Deer Lodge, Missoula, Polson and Flathead.

Inter-chapter meetings reached a new high and all chapters located where it was possible to attend, attended one or more meeting. W. T. Spanton, Federal Supervisor of the eleven Western states attended the meetings at Conrad and was favorably impressed with the conduct of the meeting.

The Deer Lodge Chapter put on a Lincoln Day program before the House of Representatives during Legislature. This program did a lot toward letting the lawmakers know we have a real live organization of farm boys second to none in the state.

A regular State Association exhibit was on display at the State Fair in Helena, North Montana Fair at Great Falls, Midland Fair at Billings, Interstate Fair at Bozeman and Eastern Montana Fair at Miles City. This same exhibit was also shown at a branch meeting of the Montana Education Association in Great Falls. Sixteen teams entered judging competition held in conjunction with the North Montana Fair.

The Fourth Annual State FFA Convention was held at Montana State University in Bozeman, April 27-29, 1933.

1933-34

Montana's official delegates to the National FFA Convention, November 17-24, 1933, were Lambert Hruska of Lewistown and Robert Stewart of Miles City. Highlight of the convention was the election of Bob Stewart of Miles City to the American Farmer Degree, and his election as second vice president of the National Organization for 1933-34.

Nineteen year old Bob received his State Farmer Degree in April of 1931. His supervised farming program consisted of 617 acres of land, sheep, beef, a garden, bees and potatoes, from which he derived a labor income of $971.35. His total investment in farming amounted to $4,388.75, and he had other assets amounting to $230.00. He managed a 1,337 acre ranch for one and one-half years, having complete charge of all operations, and was a delegate to the 1932 National Convention.

Another district was formed, the Western District, with Missoula, Polson, Flathead, Deer Lodge, Dillon, and Whitehall as chapter members. This makes two district organizations in the state.

The Fifth Annual State Convention was held in Bozeman at Montana State University, April 27-29, 1934, in conjunction with High School Week.

Judges of the State Public Speaking Contest were Dr. Welch, Dean Hamilton, and Dr. Slagsvold, all of Montana State University in Bozeman. First place was awarded to Chester Rogers of Musselshell, with Carl Hillner of Billings and William Lodman of Lewistown placing second and third, respectively.

The FFA fair exhibit was not as good as it had been in the past. Many boards showed the year before had to be used to make a full exhibit. The display was shown at the North Montana Fair in Great Falls and Eastern Montana Fair in Miles City.

Advisor Duke Wellington and Ray Hall of the Judith Basin Chapter, Bob Stewart of Miles City, and Don Valiton of Deer Lodge traveled to Chicago to put on the "Newspaper of the Air," an FFA broadcast over the nationwide hookup of the NBC, August 13, since the program had to originate in the Chicago studio.

There was an active FFA chapter in every vo-ag department in Montana, 35 chapters in all. Active membership increased fifteen percent to put Montana over the goal of a thousand members and entitle her to two American Farmers. Montana had a total of 1,077 active members, 91 associate members, and 60 honorary members for the year.

Melvin Beck and Don Valiton of Deer Lodge headed Montana's delegation to the 1934 National FFA Convention in Kansas City, October 20-26.

The Sixth Annual State Convention was again held during High School Week at MSC, Bozeman, April 24-27, 1935. Outstanding feature of the convention was the visit of the National FFA President, Andrew Sundstrom of Beresford, South Dakota, and the National Executive Secretary, Dr. W. A. Ross of Washington, D.C. Some 330 Future Farmers registered for the convention, with every chapter represented.

The Fourth Annual Banquet was attended by 330 members and guests Wednesday evening, April 24th. Short talks were given by MSC President Alfred Atkinson, W. A. Ross, and Andrew Sundstrom. The banquet was prepared and served by the Ag. Club.

Frederic Meadows of Choteau, who spoke on "A Future Farmer Chooses His Vocation," was selected top public speaker over a field of twelve entrants by judges W. A. Ross, Alex Cappon and Clyde McKee.

An FFA Alumni Extemporaneous Speaking Contest was held for the first time, with first place going to former state public speaking winner, Chester Rogers of Musselshell. He received a $50.00 check from the Horse and Mule Association of America to help defray his expenses to the Alumni Regional Contest in Portland that fall. All entrants spoke on some phase of horse and mule power in American agriculture. The contestants drew for topics and had 2-5 hours to prepare their talks. Carl Peters of Billings placed second.

1935-36

The year ending June 30, 1936 found new chapters at Belgrade, Chester, Dutton and Lonepine, bringing the total number of FFA chapters in Montana to thirty-nine. Active membership increased by one hundred, to reach a new high of 1,177.

Late 1935 marked the advent of the "Montana Future Farmer" magazine. Ten issues were printed and sent to all chapter members and other state departments.

District organization continued, with seven districts holding business meetings; Judith Basin, Glacier Park, Fort Assinniboine, Southern, Western, Eastern, and Milk River. Thirty-eight of the chapters attended district meetings.

Gallatin Chapter assisted in the formation of a Young Farmers Organization of 28 young men between the ages of 16 and 24. Three-fourths of this group was former FFA'ers. Another club was formed at Missoula, with 13 of the 20 members former FFA'ers. Other chapters assisting in the organization of similar organizations were Chester, Valier, Cascade, Kalispell, Harlowton, Highwood and Dutton.

Joe Ritschel of Dillon and Walter Davis of Bozeman officially represented Montana at the Eighth National FFA Convention, October 21-24, 1935 in Kansas City. Others attending were judging team members Wallis Banning, Paul Van Ostrand and Bill Davison. They were accompanied by J. E. Border, state advisor.

The Seventh Annual State Convention was held at Montana State University, Bozeman, April 30-May 1, 1936, with thirty-eight chapters represented by 350 boys.

The Fifth Annual Banquet was held Friday evening with an attendance of 315 boys and a number of visitors. Among guests at the banquet was Elizabeth Ireland, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The banquet was prepared by the Ag. Club.

Judges McKee, Bolles and Lamphere, all of Montana State University, awarded first place in public speaking to Bernard Toenyas of Choteau. First place in the Alumni Extemporaneous Contest went to Walter Davis of Bozeman. Judges of this event were Welch, Nelson and Haight, also of Montana State University.

Future Farmers from the Gallatin Chapter furnished entertainment for the FFA Pacific Regional Speaking Contest held in Bozeman on June 8th.

John Johnson, Harley O'Donnell, Verne Cornelius, Charles Zimmerman and advisor Z. G. Hudgin of Billings participated in the Pacific International Livestock Judging Event. They ranked 14th in a field of 46, placing 8th in sheep and 10th in Poland China hogs.

1936-37

Although a new charter was given to a chapter at Power, bringing chapters in the association to forty, active membership in the State Association decreased to 1,087 due to the severe drought of 1936. Seven FFA districts functioned this year.

Montana's delegation to the National Convention, October 19-22, 1936 included Oswald Brownlee, state president; William Davidson, state secretary; Lloyd Schmitt, state treasurer; Floyd Pahnish of Dillon; Walter Woodcock and Lee Rhea of Miles City; Duke Wellington, former Stanford advisor; and J. E. Border, state advisor.

The Montana Association placed fifth in the State Association Award Contest. Our report showed 100% chapter organization in 39 departments with 1,177 members. In thrift banks, a sum of $1,430.00 was on deposit and $131,000 was reported as invested in farming by members. Leadership schools were conducted by 28 chapters, as were father-son banquets. A printed State paper was published and distributed. The association conducted a local advisor's training school. Safety programs were sponsored by 37 chapters. Delegates representing 38 chapters attended the State FFA Convention, and an educational exhibit was sponsored at the two major State fairs.

A collegiate chapter of FFA was temporarily formed at Montana State University in Bozeman. Plans were made for a permanent organization and charter for 1938. Membership was opened to include all former FFA members and majors in the Department of Agricultural Education. This group is to act as an active intermediary between local FFA chapters and the State Association, give Montana FFA more publicity, acquaint incoming FFA members with problems common to college frosh, and edit the Montana Future Farmer paper.

Herschel D. Hurd became the state advisor of the Montana Association of FFA in January, 1937, replacing J. E. Border who resigned from the position.

The FFA Fat Lamb Show and Sale held in connection with the Montana Woolgrowers Convention at Billings, January 4-6, was larger and more successful than any such previous show. Billings won top prize money followed by Big Timber, Belgrade and Bozeman. Paul Boylan's champion lamb topped the sale at 32.5 cents a pound and was sold to the Northern Grill, Billings. Boylan was a Bozeman boy. The group of eighty-three lambs entered in the show sold for an average of 11 cents per pound.

Raymond Romain, Chester, received the $50 Agricultural Scholarship sponsored by Montana State University. Future Farmers participating in this event took tests in biology, technical agriculture, and English. Dale Skaalure, Big Sandy, was second.

New charters were granted to chapters at Belfry, Culbertson, Fort Benton, Hingham, Laurel and Montana State University, Bozeman. This brought our total to forty-five chapters and one collegiate chapter.

The chapters were divided up into seven districts in the state, as follows: Western District - Deer Lodge, Dillon, Kalispell, Lonepine, Missoula and Polson; Glacier Park District - Browning, Cascade, Choteau, Conrad, Dutton, Power, Simms and Valier; Fort Assiniboine District - Big Sandy, Chester, Chinook, Fort Benton, Highwood, Hingham and Joplin; Milk River District - Culbertson, Glasgow, Hinsdale, Opheim and Scobey; Southern District - Belfry, Belgrade, Big Timber, Manhattan, Townsend and Whitehall; Judith Basin District - Belt, Denton, Harlowton, Lewistown, Moccasin and Stanford; and Yellowstone District - Billings, Laurel, Miles

City, Musselshell, Ryegate and Worden. These are the districts and chapters within them as adopted at the 1936 Vo-Ag Instructors' Convention.

A. W. Johnson became the third state advisor of the Montana Association of Future Farmers of America in October, 1937, succeeding Herschel D. Hurd, in that capacity.

Over 7,000 Future Farmers from throughout the United States attended the Tenth National FFA Convention in Kansas City in October, 1937. Montana's delegation was headed by official delegates William Davidson of Miles City and Dan Mizner of Deer Lodge, and advisors R. H. Palmer, D. L. McDonald and A. W. Johnson.

Montana's fourth American Farmer, William Davidson of Powderville, was elected at this convention. A resume of his history at the time of his election is as follows: Eighteen year old graduate of Custer County High School received his State Farmer Degree in 1936. His supervised farming program included three Polled Hereford heifers and a calf, one saddle horse, poultry, a garden, potatoes and hay. He held a partnership with his father on 600 acres of land. He was active in stock judging and was Grand Champion Showman at the university stock show.

Ignatius O'Donnell, former Yellowstone Chapter member, was announced as the winner of a National Turkey Marketing contest sponsored by "Turkey World," and judged by the editor, M. C. Small. The contest was based on the best records on turkey growing and marketing methods. At the time of the award, he was manager of the Yellowstone County Turkey Marketing Association.

Garth Blackburn, Simms, received a $250 scholarship for placing first in the western division of the Draft Scholarship Contest. The contest consisted of a dairy demonstration and was held in conjunction with the National Dairy Show in Columbus, Ohio.

Future Farmers exhibited 175 fat lambs at the Junior Fat Lamb Show and Sale, Great Falls, January 17-19. James Drummond, Deer Lodge, received 63 cents a pound for his grand champion from the Club Cafeteria in Great Falls. Duffy Crabtree and Paul Holzer of Stanford sold their reserve champion lamb to the Rainbow Hotel for 44 cents per pound.

A total of 397 active members attended the State Convention, Bozeman, April 27-30, 1938. The highlight of the convention was the State FFA Band, organized and directed by Mr. Lou Howard, Montana State University band director. They performed creditably in their first attempt. Mr. Howard expressed the opinion that the band had great possibilities.

The All-Future Farmer Dinner was held in the Gallatin County High School gymnasium Wednesday evening, April 27th. Over 300 Future Farmers heard National Vice President Lex Murray and saw movies of the Tenth National Convention.

Nearly 400 Future Farmers and guests were present at the Future Farmer Group Supper on Thursday evening to hear N. L. 1938-39

Big Horn of Hardin, Lodge Grass, Malta, Medicine Lake, Mission Valley of Ronan, Sidney, Stevensville, Twin Bridges, Bigfork and Stillwater Valley of Absarokee were added to the list of Montana FFA chapters, and Ryegate was deleted, to make a total of 54 chapters and one collegiate chapter in the State Association for the year ending June 30, 1939.

Official delegates to the National Convention in Kansas City were Dan Mizner, state president, Deer Lodge, and Alvin Meyer, Choteau. Dan Mizner was also the American Farmer candidate. Others attending were Frank Urick of Belt; Donald Peterson and Kenneth Norskog of Miles City; Eugene Egan, president of the Montana Vocational Agriculture Teachers' Association, Lewistown; and A. W. Johnson, state advisor.

Nine Montana Future Farmers attended the Twelfth National FFA Convention in Kansas City, October 16-20, 1939. Official delegates were Dan Mizner, Deer Lodge, and Paul Holzer, Stanford. Alvin Meyer of Fairfield was awarded the American Farmer Degree, along with Dan Mizner, who also received the Pacific Region Star Farmer Award.

Dan Mizner was 21 years old at the time of his application for American Farmer. His record is unique in many ways and shows the development of a "true son of the West." At the time he applied for American Farmer, Dan shared the responsibility of a 20,000 acre ranch at Avon with his father. He attended Montana State College for a while. His wide range of experiences included: foreman, managing haying crews, directing the work on cattle roundups, breaking and shoeing horses, blacksmithing, tending and shearing sheep, irrigating, building fences, digging wells, etc.

In addition to his participation in the general ranch work, he owned 160 acres of land secured from his father, and rented 160 acres from an uncle. His own farming enterprises included sheep, beef, poultry, horses and hay. The labor income from these enterprises over his six year period in FFA was $3,800.

Dan's leadership and cooperative activities included serving as chapter president, reporter and treasurer; delegate to both state and national conventions, and president and vice president of the State Association.

The Deer Lodge Chapter was awarded first place in the Pacific Region and third in the nation in The Chapter Contest. Membership in the chapter was 42, representing 100% of the students in vocational agriculture at Powell County High School. Bill Geary was the president and W. E. Anderson served as advisor.

The chapter maintained a fine chapter house and farm. They secured materials from the county commissioners and built a chapter cooperative brooder house, where 2,000 baby chicks were brooded. At the time of their report, over 600 fryers had been sold at better than current prices. A revolving swine project of chapter-owned animals made it possible for several members to carry swine projects.

Local community service activities included: Junior Fair and Horse Show sponsored by the chapter, cleaning the high school building, improving the school grounds, building potato graders, culling chickens, and donating 800 pounds of potatoes to needy persons at Christmas time. The group also assisted in the distribution of ten tons of grasshopper poison , 10,000 pounds of gopher poison, and twenty pounds of magpie poison in pheasant areas.

Leadership and scholarship activities were carried out through a school assembly program and a radio broadcast, as well as special leadership training for chapter members. Twelve percent of the members were on a chapter honor roll, and a scholarship committee checked on member grades three times during the year.

The group showed its thrift by the purchase of U.S. Postal Savings Bonds with money contributed by members. Members earned from farming an average of $118.20 and had invested in farming an average of $134.00 each. Montana chapters at Kalispell, Dillon and Deer Lodge contributed baking potatoes that were served at the annual banquet.

Chester Chapter won first place in the Pacific Region and fourth place nationally, in the National Chapter Achievement Contest at the National Convention, October 17-21, 1938. The chapter received a $75 cash prize for placing first in the region. Mr. Hubert Rodeberg was chapter advisor. Leonard Gray was chapter president and was one of the Montana Future Farmers attending the national convention.

Every boy in Chester High School was an FFA member, and 70% of the 41 members had long-time farming programs. A ten acre chapter farm was maintained for experimental plots, for project work, to supply materials for judging and identification, and to grow trees for the future beautification of the school grounds. An old school house, 40'x22', was acquired from the Board of Education and turned into a chapter house. Members remodeled the building completely and furnished it at a cost of $100. Equipment included electric lights, ping-pong and pool tables, easy chairs and a library of 150 books and magazines. It was open during the week to FFA members as well as other groups. In the spring a demonstration day was held at which time all eighth grade boys were entertained at an open house. Money was raised by various activities, including picture shows, operating check rooms and raffles. Chapter members started a Thrift Bank with 34 depositors. They had a total of $6,700 invested in farming and savings.

The Tenth Anniversary FFA Convention was held in conjunction with Montana High School Week at Montana State College, Bozeman, April 26-29, 1939. Approximately five hundred Future Farmers attended, representing fifty-four chapters. National FFA President Robert Elwell attended the convention and spoke to the members.

Public speaking judges R. H. Palmer, R. R. Renne and William Lessley awarded first place and a trip to the regional event in Berkeley, California, to William Collins of Whitehall. Second and third place pennants were awarded to John Shoquist, Choteau, and George Young, Lewistown.

Arthur Christensen, Dillon, won the Alumni Speaking Contest, and received a trip to the International Livestock Exposition at Portland, Oregon to participate in the regional event. Second place went to Ralph Parker of Simms.

1939-40

Chapters added during the year were Clarksfork at Bridger, and Fairfield, bringing the total number of local chapters in the association to fifty-six.

The Future Farmer exhibit at the North Montana Fair surpassed any previous exhibit in both quality and quantity. Forty-six chapters had entries or were represented by a livestock judging team or band members.

James Schultz of Chester was the winner of the major Agricultural Scholarship presented by Montana State College. Recreational activities included a father and son banquet for 260 persons, a summer camping trip, a rifle team and several picnics. The chapter also maintained an orchestra and won thirty games of basketball.

This was also the year that the Montana Association placed third in the State Association Awards Contest, bringing home a $40.00 prize. Membership in the State Association was 1,649. Fifty-four schools had chapters in operation.

The report was supplemented by an excellent scrapbook filled with pictures, newspaper clippings and a complete record of the year's activities. Outstanding among the State Association activities was the fact that the president had traveled 5,000 miles in visiting every chapter in Montana; a state-sponsored series of weekly radio broadcasts over seven stations with 37 chapters participating; a band of 91 pieces; a monthly printed State Association publication; a representation of 98% of the chapters at the State Convention; and plans for a State FFA camp.

The Montana Association had exhibits at the North Montana State Fair, as well as at Billings, Missoula and Miles City. Judging contests were staged at the Midland Empire and Western Montana Fairs. A training school for advisors was held, and the Collegiate Chapter at Montana State College had a membership of 28. Dan K. Mizner was the state president, and A. W. Johnson was state advisor.

The Eleventh Annual State FFA Convention was held in Bozeman, April 24-27, 1940 at Montana State College, in conjunction with high School Week. Mr. Edgar Spiekerman, National Vice President from the Pacific Region, was the main speaker at the State Convention.

1940-41

More chapters were added to the roster, at Charlo, Hamilton, Hot Springs, Poplar, Sheridan and Wolf Point, to bring total chapters in the State Association to 62.

Delegates to the 13th National FFA Convention, November 11-15, 1940, in Kansas City were George Stewart of Dillon and Harley O'Donnell of Billings. Both boys received the American Farmer Degree during convention proceedings.

The Laurel Chapter prepared the Montana Association exhibit for the National FFA Convention. This display was also exhibited at many of the fairs held in the state during the summer.

Montana was one of four states receiving a gold emblem classification in the State Association Awards Contest. This was the first year the states were placed in gold, silver, bronze and honorable mention classifications, paralleling the plan followed in connection with The Chapter Contest.

A few of the accomplishments during the year were as follows: Fifty radio broadcasts were given through seven Montana radio stations, and 824 homes were reported as listening to the National FFA Radio Program; fifty-one chapters and 73 members participated in a five day state-wide camp with an FFA leadership training school as a part of camp activities; there was a State FFA Band composed of 60 members and a printed monthly state publication was prepared and exchanged with other states.

As in the State Association Awards Contest, chapters in The Chapter Contest were placed in one of four classifications: gold, silver, bronze and honorable mention. Highlight of the 25th Anniversary National FFA Convention, October 12-15, 1953, was the appearance of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He delivered the first address ever given by a President of the United States before an FFA Convention.

Wednesday morning convention feature was a gigantic Anniversary Pageant in which more than 600 members participated. Scenes acted out by members depicted the growth and achievements of the organization since 1928, and the whole affair was climaxed by the presentation of a "birthday cake" 22 feet in diameter in which 25 boys with special caps served as "candles."

Another delightful feature of the convention was the Buffalo Grass Dance performed by members of the Browning Chapter. They were invited by special request to take part in the 25th anniversary celebration. Taking part in the dance were Gordon Whitegrass, Kenneth Old Person, Joe Littlebull, Mike Little Dog, Wayne Bear Medicine, Curtis Bullchild, Leo Kennerly, Jr., Gary Douglas, Leroy Pepion, Bob Stillsmoking, Wilson Roy and Jim Hanson. They were accompanied to Kansas City by their advisor, R. W. Harris, and school bus driver, Jim Fisher.

I can't begin to tell you what a wonderful vacation was staged for me. After eighteen years of band work with the FFA band my dream came true - a trip to Kansas City and the wonderful convention."

Mr. Howard started his musical band career in 1886 at Dillon, Montana, when he was an eight year-old coronet player in a band. The son of a physician who had moved to Montana from Oregon, he learned music at his mother's piano bench and later studied at the New England Conservatory in Boston.

"In 1889, when Montana was admitted to the Union," he recalled, "I blew the bugle announcing the news when the governor's telegram from Helena reached Butte. Then we fired a cannon."

Mr. Howard went to Bozeman in 1892 and organized the "Bozeman Boys' Free Silver Band," a reflection of William Jennings Bryan's famous presidential campaign of that year. He also founded the College of Montana's band in 1905, and the Montana State College, Bozeman, band in 1907.

He was named State Supervisor of Vocational Agricultural Education in 1937, and became the State Director of Vocational Education in 1950.

Mr. Johnson was succeeded by a native of Gallatin Gateway, Montana, and Max L. Amber son. Official delegates at the 34th National Convention in Kansas City were State President Bill Krutzfeldt of Powderville and Raymond Wang of Plentywood. Raymond Wang and Henry Nagamori of Loma both received the Gold Key of American Farmer. In addition to receiving the American Farmer Degree, Henry Nagamori was named the Star Farmer of the Pacific Region. Following is an article that appeared in the October 15, 1961 issue of the Great Falls Tribune.

"Last Wednesday Night, October 11, on the stage of the Kansas City, Missouri, Municipal Auditorium, the spotlights were centered on four blue-jacketed Future Farmers of America. Behind each boy was a huge star in the blue and gold colors of the FFA. One of these young men was a Montanan, 21-year-old Henry Nagamori of Loma, a former student of vocational agriculture at Fort Benton High School.

"Henry had just been named Star Farmer for the 11state Pacific Region, before an audience of 10,000 Future Farmers of America from the 50 states, who were gathered for the organization's 34th annual convention. To the plaudits of the crowd were added the cheers of a large delegation of Future Farmers from the Treasure State. Among those in attendance was Gail Stensland, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor at Fort Benton, who has worked closely with Henry for seven years.

"With this award, Henry received $500 in cash. On stage with him to share his honor was his mother, Mrs. Aya Nagamori, who received a special citation.

"Earlier in the day, Henry had received the organization's top achievement degree, that of American Farmer. Only one member in a thousand is eligible to become an American Farmer. This degree is based upon establishment and achievements in farming and rural leadership abilities. From the group of 377 boys who had been named American Farmers, four were selected by a committee for the honor of Regional Star Farmers. The Regional Star Farmers were selected by a committee of nationally known business and professional men at a meeting at the National FFA headquarters in Washington, D.C., during the summer. Names were kept secret until just before the presentations.

"It was a seven-year journey for young Nagamori, from his enrollment as a freshman at Fort Benton High School in 1954, to the immense stage of the Kansas City Auditorium. A combination of wise parents, a hard working son, a good school system and careful guidance by two dedicated vocational agriculture teachers made this achievement possible. Don Lee, now assistant professor of agricultural engineering at Montana State College (University), was Henry's agriculture teacher and FFA advisor his first two years in high school and Gail Stensland since that time.

"In reality, the story of Henry's farming program should go back several years earlier, to a day in 1946 when his parents decided to purchase the farm they had been leasing, near the town of Loma.

"This was just after World War II and even though the hysteria of the war in the Pacific had passed, it was impossible for Henry's parents, natives of Japan who were not naturalized American citizens, to own property. These provisions of the law, however, did not apply to American citizens, and Henry was an American citizen by virtue of being born in this country. To cope with the legal aspects the purchase of the land was made in Henry's name.

"As with most Future Farmers, Henry's beginning in vocational agriculture was small but it was not to remain that way for long. His first farming program as a freshman consisted of 16.6 acres of barley.

"Henry's father died in 1954 and Henry assumed the responsibility of operating the farm. In his sophomore year in high school, in addition to taking care of his own land, Henry went into partnership with John Itow, who was employed by Henry as a hired man, in the farming of an additional 445 acres of farm land. This arrangement continued under a five-year lease which unfortunately could not be renewed after that time.

"In 1955, Henry began a series of improvement programs on his own ranch, the most successful of which has been his stubble mulch program. This practice was deemed necessary because of the light soil on the farm. All of his land is strip-farmed to conserve moisture and prevent soil and wind erosion.

"During his four years in high school, Henry learned of new practices to improve a farming program, developed skills in farm mechanics and learned to keep an accurate set of farm records. By the time he had graduated from high school in 1958, Henry's total labor income from his farming operations exceeded $11,000.

"The year following his graduation, Henry went into an active partnership with his mother. A one-half interest in the farm machinery became Henry's. The forming of the partnership helped to equalize income taxes and the depreciation on machinery. After forming the partnership, Henry provided most of the labor and he and his mother have shared equally the expenses and receipts since that time.

"Besides the crop program on the 1,120-acre farm, Henry built up a herd of about 30 grade Angus and Hereford beef cattle. He has over 100 acres of crested wheat grass and native grass for pasture.

"This young farmer has a full line of modern farm machinery which includes four tractors, two self-propelled combines, four trucks and cultivation and seeding implements. He has built two large steel buildings to house his farm machinery and recently constructed three large steel grain storage bins.

"A believer in the value of good farm records, Henry keeps accurate accounts on all his farming transactions.

"As is expected of a Star Farmer, he has an excellent record of leadership in the Future Farmers of America and in his home community. He was president of the Fort Benton Chapter in 1957-58 and a vice president of the Montana Association of FFA in 1958-59. He has a long record of accomplishments in public speaking, judging events and other FFA activities. At the 1958 state leadership conference he received the Montana Star State Grain Farmer Award of $100. "Henry was president of his class all four years in high school. He was graduated as salutatorian, which speaks highly of his scholastic capabilities. For two consecutive years, 1957 and 1958, he received a Heisey Foundation Award of $50. This award is presented for citizenship, scholarship and individual achievements.

"He was a delegate from Fort Benton High School to Montana Boys' State in 1957.

He was a member of the "B" Club, the Fort Benton High School Athletic Association, and played varsity football his junior and senior years. He was a member of the student council and in his senior year was editor of the high school annual.

"His vocational agriculture teacher, Gail Stensland, says Henry has put into practice what was taught him in the classroom. Stensland continues, "Henry is one of the most outstanding Future Farmers with whom I have had the opportunity to work. Since I have known him, he has strived for higher goals. His home farm is neat and orderly and shows that he is mindful of good farm planning. Henry has become established in farming and in this community is recognized for his leadership in agriculture."

"Henry has continued his interest in the study of agriculture, having participated the past two years in the young farmer and adult farmer classes conducted at Fort Benton High School. During the fall of 1959 and again during the winter quarter of 1960, he was enrolled in the agricultural technology course at Northern Montana College at Havre.

"At the time of his application for the American Farmer Degree in July of this year, Henry's net worth was in excess of $160,000. An unbiased appraisal value of his land resulted in a figure of a little more than $100,000. Inflation has accounted for a considerable portion of this figure because the land was originally purchased in 1946 for about one-third of its value today.

"Henry is looking toward the future. At present he is growing Itana winter wheat which is recommended as one of the better milling varieties. He hopes to enlarge the scope of his farming operations by obtaining additional acreage of winter wheat producing land.

"D. J. Hoynes, superintendent of schools at Fort Benton, has remarked, 'To watch the growth and development of Henry Nagamori has been an inspiration. I have followed his career with interest and have watched him become a credit to his mother, his school, his community, his state and his nation. We in Fort Benton are very proud of him. An achievement such as Henry's is an inspiration for one to stay in public school work.'

"In the 31-year history of the Montana Association of FFA, Henry is only the second boy to have attained the Pacific Regional Star Farmer honor. The previous winner was Dan Mizner, a member of the Deer Lodge Chapter, who received the honor in 1935."

Flathead Chapter of Kalispell again placed in the gold emblem classification of The National Chapter Contest and the Belt Chapter at Belt placed in the bronze.

Montana Future Farmers do keep up with the times, as was evidenced by the initial Space Age Agriculture flight made by Malta Chapter members on May 9th. The flight was made possible through the cooperation of Mrs. Mary Jo Janey, Supervisor of Aviation Education, Department of Public Instruction, and the Montana

Aeronautics Commission. Participants in the program were Dean Robertson, local advisor; Malta Future Farmers; Max Amberson, State FFA Advisor; Mary Jo Janey; and school board member Gene Mendel, who was one of the pilots. Students studied soil and soil conservation in the weeks before the flight. Flying over the Malta area the vo-ag students observed in detail those important items covered in class. Dean Robertson said, "We accomplished more in today's two hours in the air than we could have done during the day-long trip by car or bus."

Winners of the new Grain Terminal Association Scholarships for 1962 were vo-ag instructors Luther Lalum, Kalispell; Vernon Pacovsky, Bainville; Howard Breitbach, Baker; and Gail Stensland, Fort Benton. Also at the convention were our National FFA Advisor, Dr. Larry Case, and National FFA president, Zach Kinne. The second "Day of Service" was conducted by the Forsyth FFA Chapter which included helping service organizations in the Bozeman area with their projects. 1,033 members were in attendance plus over 400 parents and guests.

As Region 1, NAAE, outstanding agricultural educator, Gene McClure (Missoula) was awarded a 2008 Toyota Tundra. Gene retired after the first semester of school to take a job as an agricultural border patrol agent with Homeland Security.

2008-09

The State officers set high goals this year and accomplished most of them. In particular, they set out to increase the number of chapters in the state by conducting all-school assemblies for schools without an FFA program. Led by president, Chase Rose (Shields Valley), the next few years should show an increase in programs. Other officers were 1st VP, Danny Pratt (Miles City); 2nd VP, Sierra Reyher (Belgrade); secretary, Michelle Miller (Flathead); treasurer, Sam Cornthwaite (Shields Valley); reporter, Logan Hodgskiss (Choteau); sentinel, Kyle Senner (Richey); and parliamentarian, Caleb Igo (Belgrade). Bill Jimmerson was state advisor.

The Electric City (Great Falls) Chapter received a charter.

The MAAE received funding from the Montana legislature to complete the National Quality Program Standards initiative that will improve the quality of all AgEd programs. Schools wishing to start an AgEd program will also receive some start-up money ($7,500) to do so. This legislative effort allowed many FFA members and advisors to testify before the House Appropriations committee and the Senate Finance and Claims committee.

A successful State Convention was held at Montana ExpoPark in Great Falls with just over 1,000 members plus nearly 500 parents and guests attending. Mr. Frank Borman, Apollo 8 commander in 1968, was the keynote speaker. An appearance by Chief Earl Old Person of the Blackfoot Nation was a special part of the convention as he talked about his FFA career in the 1940's and introduced the Browning FFA who competed and won the FFA/American Indian program.

The FFA Foundation position changed hands with Ramey Lunceford, a former Stevensville FFA member and advisor, taking the reins. His efforts to raise money for FFA programs had immediate success as the largest sponsor in our history was introduced at the state convention. Torgerson's (an equipment dealer) donated $25,000 for FFA activities in the next year.

The first ever State Forestry contest was held. Ben Meyer, Mission Valley advisor, conducted the event in Ronan. Montana will compete in 18 Career Development events at the National FFA Convention.

This was an exciting year in the Montana FFA Association. Five new FFA Chapters were chartered during the 80th FFA Convention (Geraldine, Jordan, Lima, Roundup, and Savage). This brought out total chapters to 80 which is a record number for Montana.

The state officers this year were Sarah Ralls, Stevensville, president; Karli Clark, Choteau, 1st VP; Richie Farrar, Missoula, 2nd VP; Karissa Floerchinger, Cascade, secretary; Ethan Schaff, Sidney, treasurer; Ryan Mohr, Park City, Reporter; David Ratzburg, Conrad, Sentinel; and Nicole Willmore, Roy, parliamentian. "Improving Agricultural Education" was the theme the MAAE took to the legislature and were rewarded with HB464, providing every Ag Department $1,500 for completing a self assessment and improvement plan. The new Ag Departments received $6,250 each to help them start their programs. Representative Jesse O'Hara and Senator Taylor Brown carried the bill. Many FFA members provided testimony in Helena.

The Montana Agricultural Opportunities tour was new this year. Ramey Lunceford, Foundation director, conducted this tour for FFA members interested in becoming ag teachers. They toured agricultural businesses in Billings, Harlowton, Great Falls, Helena, and Three Forks. A video of their voyage can be found on www.youtube.com.

The State FFA Convention on the MSU campus brought 1,087 members and advisors to Bozeman, plus over 500 guests. Keynote speaker, Flint Rasmussen, world champion rodeo clown from Choteau, moonwalked his way across the stage, and inspired all in attendance. Bill Lombardi, Deer Lodge advisor, was also a keynote speaker who challenged everyone to “make a difference” in their lives. Bill and his wife, Mary Rose, have adopted 6 kids from around the world to go with their own 4. Also, 170 members received their state FFA degree.

The State Fair in Great Falls continues to offer FFA Chapters a place to showcase their projects and activities to the community. Mr. Wearley (Choteau), Mr. Bedord (Fairfield), and Mr. Tilleman (Cascade) are the superintendents. The contests in livestock judging, soils judging, and range judging continue to bring FFA members from all over the state together. The winners were Flathead (livestock judging), Shields Valley (Soils, Range, and Sweepstakes).

Chase Rose, Shields Valley, was elected the Central Region VP of the National FFA Association! Chase is our first national officer since Mike Stevenson in 1991-92.

Torgerson’s, LLC and the Montana FFA Foundation teamed up to offer a tractor (New Holland Boomer 8N Retro-Classic) for FFA Chapter members to raffle. Over $130,000 was raised to support local chapters and the Foundation. Jeanie Schnitzler of Dell bought the winning ticket from Jori Burns, Beaverhead FFA.

2010-11

The Association continued to add chapters this year with new ones in Darby, Drummond, Lodge Grass, Simms, and the Nelson Ag Academy Online FFA Chapter. Unfortunately, we lost two chapters: Belt and the Big Flat Chapter in Turner.

The Nelson Ag Academy Online Chapter is most likely the first ever of its kind in America! LeRoy Nelson offers online AgEd classes to students who do not have access to a regular AgEd program. Therefore, these members can be from anywhere in the state.

The Association had a banner year led by president Lane Nordlund (Fergus); 1st VP, Laura Frazee (Stevensville); 2nd VP, Jayleen Harris (Conrad); Secretary, Sarah Snow (Park City); Treasurer, Brooke Cather (Missoula); Reporter, Kristen Scott (Shields Valley); Seninel, Mick Mosher (Shepherd); and Parliamentarian, Cody Donough (Park City). Bill Jimmerson finished his 6th year as State Advisor.

The second Ag Opportunities Tour was held with about 30 members riding along and being educated about Montana agriculture from the Golden Triangle west to a dairy farm near Stevensville. Torgerson’s sponsored the tour.

The state officers were again treated to a “Follow the Grain” tour to Portland where they spend a day at the Wheat Marketing Center under the direction of Dr. David Shelton. The Flathead FFA agronomy team tagged along and the group got to meet grain representatives from the Philippines, Viet Nam, and Thailand. The Montana Wheat and Barley Committee sponsor this event.

The National Convention was truly special with our own, Chase Rose, finishing up his year as Central Region VP. His special qualities were evident and he represented our state with style and class.

Our state convention broke all records for attendance with nearly 1,700 members, advisors, and guests present. Our keynote speaker, Trent Loos, really motivated each member to speak out about agriculture and the nay-sayers in our society.

Our Foundation continues to generate more support than ever under the direction of Ramey Lunceford. Thousands of dollars were earned by local chapters selling tickets for three, 4-wheelers purchased from Torgerson's.

2011-12

In the 82nd year of operation, the Montana FFA Association chartered two more chapters, in Cut Bank and in Victor. This brings the Association to 85 chapters, a new record number. 2,549 members continue an upward trend in a time when school populations are on the decline, making the FFA the largest school-based organization in Montana, and growing!

A state officer team of seven females and one male proved that, although Montana has only 46% female membership, females continue to be a majority in the leadership positions. Morgan Kuntz (Beaverhead) was president; Adam Heggelund (Deer Lodge), 1st VP; Bailey Engle (Big Timber), 2nd VP; Cali Christensen (Big Timber), secretary; Nicole Mohr (Park City), treasurer; Melissa Digans (Opheim), reporter; Sarah Burk (Cascade), sentinel; and Katie Hogemark (Big Timber), parliamentarian. This is the first time in our history that three females from one chapter, Big Timber, were state officers the same year.

A special noteworthy item was that Rick Kuntz, 1968-69 State president, was the last state president from Montana to vote against allowing females into the FFA. Of course, his vote came back to haunt him as his daughter, Morgan, was president this year!

The FFA Foundation changed hands with director, Ramey Lunceford, accepting a similar position with the Michigan FFA Association, and Jaime Cargill stepping in as our new director. Chase Rose continues to help with the Foundation, also.

The first annual Student Ag Expo was held in Billings, replacing the MSU Ag Days program which was discontinued. Over 900 FFA and 4-H members competed in numerous contests, including the State Floriculture CDE and the NILE Livestock judging event. The Montana Leadership Conference (MLC, MALC, and CPC) was held at the same time. The event was a huge success.

The State convention was held on the MSU-Bozeman campus at the end of March and attracted nearly ½ of our membership with 1,161 members attending. Alicia Hodnik, National FFA Central Region VP, attended along with 5 state officers from Washington, two from Idaho, and one from Oregon. George Simmons, Forsyth advisor, conducted our sixth annual Day of Service around the Bozeman community. Shields Valley FFA was honored as our Star Chapter.

2012-13

With the retirement of state advisor, Bill Jimmerson, in July, Amanda Carlson was selected to replace him. Officers this year were Brady Johnson, president; Molly McGonigal, 1st VP; Amy Hager, 2nd VP; Blair Street, secretary; David Hammermeister, treasurer; Lindsay Clairmont, reporter; Kyle Finley, reporter; and Emily Muir, parliamentarian.

One of the biggest changes this year was the Association moving from individual dues to Affiliation dues with National FFA. Now, every student who takes an AgEd class is automatically in the FFA, completing the model that AgEd has always had.

Amanda Carlson resigned this year in order to raise her family. Bill Jimmerson came back onboard for a few months until a permanent person was hired.

The state officers were Caitlin Creighton, Missoula, president; VP; Gwynn Simeniuk, Opheim, 1st VP; Austin Standley, Missoula, 2nd; Whitney Hilliard, Miles City, secretary; John Walker, Livingston, treasurer; Shanna Olson, Richey, reporter; Warren Krone, Electric City, sentinel; and Taylor Brown, Richey, parliamentarian.

Connor Rose from Shields Valley was named as an American Star finalist in the area of Agriculture Placement.

A new leadership conference came to life this year and it was called the GOLD Conference. Targeted were those members interested in becoming State FFA Officers.

New chapters chartered this year were St. Regis, White Sulphur Springs, St. Labre, Gardiner, and the Northern Cheyenne Tribal School.

2014-15

The officer team was the first in the history of the Association to have three state advisors during their term. The officers were: Brant Marsh, Sheridan, president; Brady Ostermiller, Shepherd, 1st VP; Allie Nelson, Great Falls, 2nd VP; Neela Andres, Missoula, secretary; Randy Taylor, Dillon, treasurer; Bryce Street, Shields Valley, reporter; Carlie Brownlee, Big Timber, sentinel; and Calli Jo Dixon, Lewistown, parliamentarian. Half-way through the year, Jim Rose (former teacher at Shields Valley) took over as state advisor. New chapter's receiving their charters were Chester-Joplin-Inverness (CJI) and Froid.

Possibly the biggest change in the Association's history occurred this year. The Association divorced state government as its employer and went on its own. Using two funds that the legislature designated for the FFA Association, the Board of Directors became the owners of this business.

New chapters included Corvallis and Broadwater in Townsend.

The state officers this year were: President Lauren Mehlhoff from Twin Bridges, 1st Vice-President Meghan Brence from Miles City, 2nd Vice-President Carlie Rembold from Big Timber, Secretary Cody Boyce from Lewistown, Treasurer Todd Lackman from Forsyth, Reporter Sidney Hathaway from Denton, Sentinel Laina Raisler from Miles City and Parliamentarian Trevor Motley from Stevensville. The state officers took great pride in the fact they were able to visit every single chapter in good standing throughout the year. There were 90 chapters in the state this year so this was not an easy task.

2016-17

The 1974-75 State Officers with Governor Tom Judge, during National FFA Week. Can you recognize the officer whose son has served as State President?

Below, some of the 1981-82 State Officer team. Who is the tall individual in the back? You will find his picture else where in the history.

*To the left, the 1991-92 State FFA Officer team. Can you pick out the fourth Andres to be a State officer?
To the right, the 1997-98 State FFA Officers.*

Aren't they cute? Which one of these officers is now a big-time opera star?

CHAPTER ADVISORS AND TEACHERS OF VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE EDUCATION

Listed below are departments of vocational agriculture education, instructors and school years taught, as shown on records in the state office. Instructor lists for the school years 1931-32, 1932-33 and 1938-39 are missing. We were able to gather names of the instructors from other sources in some instances. However, instructors in several of the schools for those years are unknown.

Family traditions run deep in the FFA. The O'Hair family of Livingston, Alan and Agnes shown with Andy, Bonnie and Mary are an example. Jerry, older brother was State FFA President in 1958-59. Andy was State President in 1960-61. Grandsons, Todd and Justin were also State FFA Officers. Todd was President in 1985 and Justin was 4th Vice-President in 1988. Todd received his American Degree in 1987. The family continues to ranch in the Paradise Valley, south of Livingston.

MSU AG DAYS QUIZ BOWL IS A GREAT PLACE FOR FFA GREENHANDS TO HAVE SOME FUN AND LEARN SOME AGRICULTURE FACTS.

AGRI-SCIENCE POSTER CONTESTS PROVIDE AN OPPORTUNITY FOR GREENHANDS TO DEVELOP THEIR SPEAKING AND TEAMWORK SKILLS, WHILE GAINING SELF-CONFIDENCE. THE STEVENSVILLE CHAPTER WAS PARTICIPATING IN THE FIRST AG-DAYS AGRI-SCIENCE POSTER CONTEST.

State Star Greenhands

The Green Hand program was started in 1957 for the purpose of motivating interest and activity in agriculture, leadership, personal conduct and citizenship responsibilities in beginning students enrolled in vocational agriculture education. Each of the eight FFA districts in Montana selects their outstanding Green Hand and enters him/her in state competition. The Star State Greenhand is selected from this group.

This activity is sponsored by the National FFA Foundation, Inc., as part of their Improving Agriculture and Leadership program. An asterisk denotes the Star State Green Hand.

Montana FFA Sweethearts

State FFA Sweethearts were active with the State Officers, filling a leadership role. They gave retiring addresses like State Officers. They went to the National FFA Convention and competed to become Queen of the American Royal Livestock Show.

Lori Conlon, 1977-78 FFA Sweetheart from Saco also won the Miss Montana contest.

Misti Peterson, Park Chapter, the last FFA Sweetheart, 1989, became President of the Montana FFA Association in 1990.

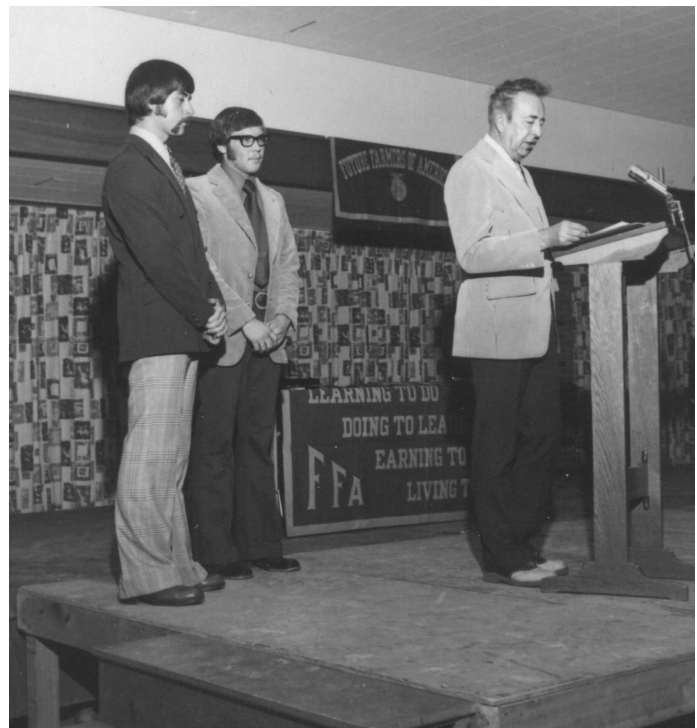

At the 42nd Annual State FFA Leadership Conference held April 7-8, 1972, the delegates voted that the State Association hold a sweetheart contest. The contestants shall be selected on the district level and the 8 district winners shall compete on the state level. The state sweetheart shall be selected on the basis of a contest which consists of knowledge of agriculture and FFA, character, community and school activities, scholarship, and talent. The winner of the state contest shall represent the Montana FFA Association as a candidate for the American Royal Queen held during the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri

Flathead FFA Chapter is the record holder for the number of National Chapter awards won by any Montana FFA Chapter. Luke Lalum, on the left was one of the key advisors that guided FFA members to such honors.

Ken Mapston, Denton Ag Ed instructor recovered from an organ transplant and taught in Denton for 24 years.

Mark Lalum (shown above with Ken), Luke's son returned to Kalispell to teach with his father. Mark worked hard to make sure the Kalispell FFA Chapter continued to be a Star Chapter. The two Lalums provided agriculture instruction for fifty years.

1932-1980 Montana FFA Individual and Chapter AWARDS

Entries in the various state events were originally placed numerically (1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc.). In 1942, however, the State Association changed to the gold, silver and bronze division award placings, and presently uses this system. In this section of the history, we are chronologically listing the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd awards in each event through 1941. Starting with 1942 we will list the gold award winners in each event.

The following pages show the State winners (Gold Award) in the Proficiency Awards since 1980. Each State was allocated so much money from the National Foundation to be awarded to State Winners. While there were always more State winners than the resources allowed, not all State winners were selected to compete on the National level. The selection committee selected those most outstanding to receive the $100.00 award and to represent Montana in the National competition. In some cases, individuals or businesses chose to provide the money for a state winner.

During the early years, Montana winners would compete against others from the Western FFA Region to determine who was a finalist at the National level. Later the process was changed to what was referred to as pool judging. All individuals in a particular proficiency area were judged against each other. Four were selected as National finalist. Those four were invited to the National Convention and were interviewed by an industry panel. The industry panel then selected the National winner.

The National Proficiency awards were recently divided into placement and entrepreneurship categories. This was necessary to create fairness as the entrepreneurship generally had an advantage in terms of dollars involved. The Shields Valley Chapter (Clyde Park) sets the standard as they have had four national winners and eleven national finalists since 1980.

National Band and Chorus

The white pants of Montana National FFA band and chorus members were worn with pride. Band members not only played at the convention but marched and played in the American Royal Parade in Kansas City.

NATIONAL FFA BAND

The first National FFA Band performance was during the 1947 National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Henry S. Brunner of Pennsylvania State University was the first band director, and continued in this capacity until 1962. His successor was R. Cedric Anderson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He continued until 1968. In 1969 Roger Heath, Music Professor at Purdue University, became the National FFA Band director.

John and John Nelson of the Augusta Chapter where a big hit with their musical talents.

John Nelson, their dad, was the Ag Ed instructor in Augusta.

"A Tip of the Hat" to Jim and Jack Larson who provided the leadership, equipment and know how for all talent contestants at the State FFA Convention. Jim taught at Custer and Columbus, and Jack taught at Miles City.

Teachers learned how to do DNA separation prior to teaching the process to their students. Montana has had two National winners. Do you know who they were and from what chapter? Look in this section to find the answer.

No Heywood Sheep Awards were available from 1976 to 1979. The validity of the trust created under the will of Royalston Heywood Cram was challenged on a gender issue. The trust company used the fees for available court and legal fees. The case was resolved and the awards are still being given to FFA and 4-H members. These awards are made through the local Chapters. Hence, no accurate record of awards was available at the writing of this history in 2006.

Montana FFA Foundation History

As State FFA Advisor, Leonard Lombardi started the FFA Foundation with a long-term goal of $100,000 in 1975. Leonard, with the help of Ruth Lombardi, managed the FFA Foundation at the Helena Credit union until his retirement in 1996. To put the Foundation on better legal grounds the decision was made to create a separate entity.

As a separate entity from the Montana FFA Association, the new Montana FFA Foundation was formed in 1998. A foundation was formed because there was a need for an organization to take over the burden of raising finances for Montana FFA. The FFA Foundation was formed as a business with 501(c) (3) tax exempt status. The purposes of this newly formed foundation were as follows:

1. To promote and stimulate interest in agriculture leadership and careers for youth in agriculture.
2. To promote and develop interest on the part of the general public in agriculture education, including the activities of the Montana FFA Association.
3. To promote funds for awards, scholarships, or other recognition as authorized by the Montana Foundation Board of Directors to deserving FFA members who have achieved distinction on a state or local basis and to administer, direct or supervise the granting of such recognition.
4. To provide grants to organizations representing agriculture education.

The basis structure of the FFA Foundation was developed by a steering committee which consisted of Tom & Carol Peterson, Wilsall, Darin Oelkers, Bozeman, Lyndsey Fosbery, Bozeman, Rick Haines, Billings, David Hall, Helena, J.R. Peterson, Wilsall, Kevin Fochs, Livingston, and Sandra Thibault, Bozeman.

The original boards of directors are as follows:

Darin Oelkers-President	Butch Bratsky	Bill Lombardi
G. Lee Boyer-Vice President	Gary Mattheis	Pam Tierney-Crisafulli
Diana Pearce-Secretary	Tom Peterson	B.J. Fett
Bruce Glennie-Treasurer	Michael Reichman	Kevin Fochs

Extravaganza

The Montana FFA Extravaganza was initiated in 2000 by Bill Jimmerson as a fund raiser. The money was to go to the Foundation to help with the State FFA Convention. For the first couple years the event was hosted in the city where the state convention was to be held. However, it has been moved around the state to help promote FFA in different parts of the state and to spread the financial burned around.

Pat Cavey and Liesl Holtz, back left, were the driving force in the establishment and continuation of the FFA Alumni Camp. Can you identify the past state officers who were providing leadership?

Montana FFA Alumni Association

The first organizational meeting was held at the State FFA Convention, April 7, 1971. The first annual meeting of the National FFA Alumni Association was held at the 1972 National FFA Convention in Kansas City. When the presentation of the state charters was completed, forty states had chartered a State FFA Alumni Association. The organization officially adopted a Constitution and Bylaws. George Larson, President of the Montana FFA Alumni Association received the Montana state charter at the national meeting. Montana was the twelfth state to receive a Charter from the National Alumni Association.

Without scholarship support, many Ag Ed majors and FFA members would not be able to fulfill their education dream of being a teacher or attending college. We all appreciate the support provided and hope to do the same for others some day. Giving back through community service is a valuable lesson we all learned in FFA

Ernest L. DeAlton Scholarship

The scholarship was established in his memory. The purpose is to provide scholarships to Agricultural Education juniors and seniors who plan to teach in Montana. Mr. DeAlton started the first FFA Chapter in Moccasin, with the local Constitution being adopted on January 9, 1929. However, after the state association was organized and local charters issued, the Moccasin Chapter did not receive the No. 1 charter. Mr. DeAlton taught in Moccasin from 1927-1932. He served as State advisor for the North Dakota FFA Association for 33 years. He retired in June of 1969 and moved to Oregon.

MONTANA POWER COMPANY SCHOLARSHIP

The Montana Power Company, in continuing their interest in the Future Farmers of America and vocational agriculture education, established a $200 scholarship in 1958 to be awarded each year to a Montana State University student majoring in agricultural education. Determination of the scholarship winner is based on need, scholarship, leadership, stated plans of the individual to continue in the field of agricultural education, and past association in the FFA. In 1961 the Montana Power Company added an additional award, making two scholarships available each year.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD SCHOLARSHIP

The advancement of agriculture and education for farm boys and girls was of major interest to the late Carl R. Gray. In 1921, shortly before becoming president of Union Pacific Railroad, he investigated the educational opportunities for farm youth. Through the assistance of interested parties, he instituted a scholarship plan to encourage farm youth to further their education in agriculture.

In 1926 the $100 scholarships were made available to high school vocational agriculture students in the eleven states served by the Union Pacific Railroad. Montana was one of these states. Formerly known as the "Carl Raymond Gray Scholarship," the award was renamed the "Union Pacific Railroad Scholarship," and increased to $200 in 1959. In later years the scholarship was increased to $400. Following is a list of Montana recipients.

LETTERS FROM THE 50th GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Issue of the Montana Future Farmer.

Montana FFA—The First 50 Years

Leonard Lombardi

Montana FFA, like agriculture itself, is a tremendous success story. It is indeed appropriate to recognize the growth and accomplishments of FFA and celebrate with FFA members throughout Montana on the occasion of Montana FFA's 50th Anniversary.

The study of agriculture in the public schools in Montana dates back to 1887, forty-three years before the establishment of FFA in Montana. A measure was passed by the State Legislature in 1887 which gave the Governor power to set aside one day each year for all citizens to plant trees. The schools were engaged to sponsor this activity.

In 1889 agriculture was included in the first state course of study for grade schools and was to be taught one day a week in grades 6 and 7.

The State Superintendent of Schools, in 1905, recognized the importance of agriculture to the future of Montana, and increased the emphasis for including agriculture in the course of study for high schools. But perhaps the birthplace of agriculture in Montana high schools was Beaverhead County High School at Dillon. State records indicate that Beaverhead County High School had a "complete" course in agriculture in 1906. The establishment of agriculture in high schools spread to the following schools by 1916: Belt, Cardwell, Chester, Corvallis, Custer County (Miles City), Dawson County (Glendive), Dixon, Fergus County (Lewistown), Flathead County (Kalispell), Gallatin County (Bozeman), Glasgow, Harlowton, Jefferson County (Boulder), Libby, Polytechnic (private school at Billings), Powell County (Deer Lodge), St. Ignatius, Stanford, Victor and Wibaux County (Wibaux). Many of these schools established the first vocational agriculture programs the following year (1917) following the passage of the Smith-Hughes Act. The Montana Legislature of 1917 passed an appropriation to meet the provisions of the Smith-Hughes Act and the work was started in nine schools. Because of the economic conditions of that time, the expansion of Smith-Hughes vo-ag programs was gradual and steady. The total enrollment in 1924 was 451. As vocational agriculture became established in the high schools, the vo-ag teachers and students began forming agricultural clubs to satisfy the desire for leadership training, socializing, recreation and sharing common interests and concerns. While this movement was going on in Montana it was also occurring in other states around the nation. FFA was the outgrowth of the Ag. Clubs and was formally organized on the national level in 1928 in Kansas City, Missouri. Moccasin was the first school to organize an FFA chapter in Montana in 1928. The Future Farmers of America was organized at the state level in Montana in 1929 at the Annual Livestock Judging Contest at Montana State University with Mr. M. J. Abbey, State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture Education, as State Advisor. The following year (1930) on April 1st the Montana Association of Future Farmers of America was granted charter number 38 by the National Organization. The charter chapters were: Belt Valley (Belt), Big Sandy, Big Timber, Gallatin (Bozeman), Browning, Cascade, Chinook, Teton (Choteau), Conrad, Deer Lodge, Beaverhead (Dillon), Glasgow, Wheatland (Harlowton), Highwood, Joplin, Flathead (Kalispell), Fergus (Lewistown), Manhattan, Custer (Miles City), Missoula, Moccasin, Opheim, Simms, Broadwater (Townsend), Aqua Expendo (Valier), and Whitehall. The number of FFA chapters has steadily increased from 29 in 1930, 62 in 1940, and 59 in 1960 to the present all-time high of 73 chapters. The drop following 1940 occurred as a result of World War II. It has given me great personal pleasure and satisfaction to be associated with the FFA for more than a quarter of a century. I look forward with confidence to the exciting future of FFA. As the world emphasis for food becomes greater and as the complexity of agriculture increases, vo-ag/FFA will play an important role in preparing young people for the agricultural careers of the future.

Leonard Lombardi
State Advisor

Letter from Frank Westfall, Deer Lodge

When Norman Hill, your State Vice President, asked me to write a little about my FFA experiences during the past 50 years, he was asking a lot of a fellow who has trouble remembering what he'd had for breakfast that morning. But, surprisingly, some of my early experiences are still vividly etched in my memory.

I enrolled in the Smith-Hughes Vo-Ag program at Whitehall High School in 1927. My instructor was M. K. Luther, who had just moved over from Choteau High. He stated that a log chain hung on a fence at Choteau often would be blown straight out in the wind. For a while I believed him. Anyway, he left and our new instructor was Kirby Bruinfield, who did a great job as advisor.

During the next two years we labored mightily making chisels and punches in the coal fired forge, building sawhorses with compound angles, repairing harnesses sewed together with waxed ends which we fashioned from linen thread and beeswax. We had quite a few livestock judging field trips with an emphasis on daily cow and laying hen selection. During the year we reactivated the almost defunct Ag. Club and several of us purchased gold colored sweaters with green trimming as our club jackets. The highlight of the 1928-29 year was a Smith-Hughes program triangular judging meet in Dillon with Deer Lodge and Whitehall as guests. Although it was only 56 miles to Dillon and we left home at 9:00 a.m., we barely made it by supper time. We had spent the whole day pushing our three cars through mud holes and frost boils. Today, the trip takes less than an hour.

When the smoke cleared away Saturday evening, Deer Lodge received a 20" x 30" green and gold first place banner. The reason I remember this so well is that in 1951 when I became advisor at Deer Lodge, I found this same banner buried in the bottom of a cupboard drawer. Today, 51 years later, it is on display in the chapter room as a memento of pre-FFA days.

During the winter our vo-ag instructor read us a letter from Professor Border of Montana State College saying he would like to visit us with the idea of forming a chapter of the Future Farmers of America. We met with him, and on March 10, 1929 organized and elected chapter officers. This may have given Whitehall the honor of being the first officially organized chapter in Montana.

Although it was only a short time until enough chapters were organized to form the Montana Association. About this time, the great depression struck. Good cows with calves at side sold for $12.00 if you could find a buyer. There weren't many buyers because it forgot to rain for several years in a row and grasshoppers and hailstorms made the ranges into disaster areas. Almost everyone had one thing in common, though. They didn't have much money. FFA activities became one of the few social outlets for many members. But all things change. The depression saw my family's herd of 400 beef cows in 1929 go to zero head in 1937. Then came World War II and I sort of lost track of FFA for a while. In 1948 I joined the Collegiate FFA Chapter at Montana State University in Bozeman and became the advisor at Deer Lodge in 1951. Twenty-seven years later, with a host of good memories of hundreds of FFA activities, I retired holding the degree of Honorary State Farmer. I explain to people that the reason I never missed a days work in that 27 years was because I might miss something.

Yes, FFA provided me with enough experience to know that I would, without fail, recommend membership to any incoming freshman high school student. The opportunity to have a wonderful experience is only limited by the member's efforts.

Letter from H. E. Robinson

We have come a long way. "Even as the better things we now enjoy have come to us from the struggles of former years . . ." We in FFA all know where this quotation came from and we know how true it is.

I have witnessed and been a small part of this progress and change. Now, after 45 years of teaching vocational agriculture and being an FFA advisor, I am retired (as of July 1, 1977). Those 45 years of teaching were a most rewarding experience. To see young people develop into ladies, gentlemen, leaders, innovators, farmers, businessmen, church people and all around outstanding citizens is not only a joy and satisfaction for the teacher, but for the young people themselves. This is one's main pay in any labor or endeavor (satisfaction of labor well done).

The year 1926 at Carbon County High School in Red Lodge, Montana was the start of the first Smith-Hughes agricultural classes in that school. As a junior, it was my good fortune to be one of the members of the first agricultural classes there. Yes, we had an Ag. Club, but we had no district, state or national organization. Yes, we had some livestock judging at the local and state level. We had some visual aids —namely a chalk board, books with a few pictures, state and government bulletins. We did not have overhead projectors, slide projectors, tapes, movie projectors or very many charts. We must have had a lot of imagination! We had a regular-size and adequate classroom. Our shop was 28' by 42' and was larger and better equipped than most shops of the day. We had most of the ordinary hand tools found on the farms of that time. Not a single power tool was to be found. Power tools, as we now know them, were either not invented, not practical, too expensive, or ahead of their time.

In 1928 when the National FFA was organized, I was a freshman at Montana State College. By the time I started to teach in 1932 the transition was made from the local Ag Clubs to the Future Farmers of America. What an improvement that was!

In the fifty years of growth and development in the FFA many things have happened. Facilities have expanded, visual aids have greatly improved, communication among individuals and groups is much easier to achieve, and the occupational choices in the agricultural area are larger than ever.

It has been said that God created all men equal. I am not sure of that statement. However, I feel God gave every person something he can excel in, something he will be happy in doing, something from which he can earn a living and derive a lot of satisfaction. The Future Farmers of America has helped countless thousands to find themselves and get a good start in a productive and rewarding life.

I am probably biased, but I feel vocational agriculture and FFA are one of the very best ways to develop leadership, citizenship, communication, establish credit and other qualities that help young people get started in a successful life.

I have actually seen countless young people enter high school as refugees from the fourth grade — find themselves and get going. When these young people get the spark, "vision of achievement and the satisfaction of work well done" they will really kick gravel in the face of others in the race of life. Most Future Farmers soon realize that riding and whipping the "excuse horse" does not win many races. Satisfaction and success come from necessary and useful work that is well accomplished.

Future Farmers — you have come a long way. You have more tools and opportunities than ever to help yourselves and the generations that are to follow. Yes, let's leave better things for the succeeding generations to work with and enjoy. So that future generations will again be able to say — "Even as the better things we now enjoy have come to us from the struggles of former years."

Letter from William "Army" Armstrong

Fifty years of FFA — my how things have changed. I was born shortly after the turn of the century. A lot of you readers will not remember that far back, so I am relatively safe with what I say regarding those early days. After a hitch in the Army and finishing college, I decided to become a teacher — that being the only way I could make a living without work. My how things have changed — they have welfare now.

My first teaching job was at Simms, starting July 1, 1928. I was to teach Smith-Hughes agriculture and science, help with the coaching, and in my spare time, was to help the community and the farmers by taking care of the local veterinary work and such other odd jobs that might be required of me, such as visiting the boys' projects, trying to solicit new students, surveying a ditch, etc. After all, the taxpayers were paying my wages! Wages were good in those days. I was guaranteed $2,000 on a 12-month contract, with time off for Christmas and two weeks vacation during the summer — if my work was done. My how times have changed!

In the spring of 1929 Mr. M. J. Abbey, our state supervisor, called a meeting of the vo-ag instructors, during the State Livestock Judging Contests, and gave us quite a spiel about a new organization for farm boys which had been started back east, called the Future Farmers of America. Now, I never was much for a lot of these social clubs, but I could see where this FFA had possibilities, as it afforded a student an opportunity for self-improvement and state or national recognition for outstanding achievement. Apparently most of the rest of the guys at the meeting felt the same way I did, or else were afraid of rocking the boat if they voted "no". At any rate, the idea went over big and we all voted to have Montana join in the movement to make FFA a national club for those boys in our vo-ag classes and to have our chapter approved as soon as we could submit a Program of Work. By the next spring most of the chapters had submitted the necessary forms, papers, etc. and the Montana Association of FFA was granted a charter.

It so happened that my 1929 livestock judging team won a trip to the Pacific International Judging Contest at Portland while they were at the Montana Judging Contest. Now that was a jolt, for our Ag. Club had no finances and the school budget was sure stretched to the limit. But we had until fall to make the trip, so we bought 50 weaner pigs, rented a piece of ground, built some pig feeders, and bought a balanced feed from Montana Flour Mills to fatten them out. The boys in the club and the boys making the trip all took their turns at feeding, vaccination, care and, finally, butchering those pigs and the dressed carcasses were sold to a butcher shop in Great Falls. "Doggone"; it appeared that we broke every law in the State of Montana, including operating a packing house without a license, maintaining a business for profit by a school-sponsored club, and signing worthless notes. The club bought those pigs, feed, etc., and the club officers (all of who were minors) signed the necessary papers, notes, etc. Yes — we did get enough money from those pigs to pay all our expenses, feed, etc. and had enough left to pay the boys trip to Portland and their expenses while there. Only one problem — somebody lifted my wallet, with all the money and travelers checks in it, while attending the Parade. All I could do was go to one of the banks and cash a check for $220.00 to pay our eats, lodging and expenses on the way home. Maybe you don't think that was fun! If you don't believe it, try it some day.

July 1930 I left Simms and moved to Cardwell to build up a vo-ag program and FFA chapter. When I arrived there I discovered that there were two problems in connection with that job. No. 1 — the only available classroom for the vo-ag and shop program was a small room in the basement, Very inadequate. Now, while I was at Simms, the vo-ag boys and I, with the aid of a good carpenter, had built a gym with a 44' by 72' playing floor for basketball, plus limited seating space. This gym had an oval roof with 22' clearance. The Cardwell School Board had heard about this and wanted me to build a building on the school grounds big enough to house the vo-ag classroom and shop. This I agreed to do, with the aid of the boys in the classes. By Christmas we had the building completed and was moved in. Now, I do admit it was not a multi-million dollar establishment and the cost of building it was about what one of those "high class architects" would charge to draw a picture of it — but it was warm, very suitable, and the boys were very proud of their part in the constructing it. Man did I catch hell! Not from the parents, not from the school board, but from the "heavy brass." It would seem that I was not a construction boss, but supposed to be a school teacher (whatever that means) and those boys were not common laborers, but students. Well, the "boss" was about half-right — about half of them were students but they were a good bunch and they could hang a door or frame a window and, believe me, that's more than a lot of high school "students" can do now. I was proud of that group and I believe the FFA could be proud of them also, as a number of them won state and national recognition for their achievements while going to school at Cardwell, or in Whitehall when Cardwell closed its doors. I mentioned two problems — the second was that the school district run out of money about the time the building was completed and we had to take "registered warrants" which we couldn't cash until more tax money had filtered into the school treasury. The advantage of this was that it helped the teachers save money because you couldn't spend it.

From what I have told you, kind reader, I believe you can see that many things have changed in the last fifty years. In those days I have described, the boys expected to work and the right to an education was a privilege. Most of the boys expected to go back to the farm or to an ag-related job. Those opportunities afforded by FFA for local, state and national recognition were added stimulus for a superior effort. The family and the family farm were considered by many as the backbone of America.

During the 1960's, girls were admitted to FFA. There was much discussion about changing the name and the image. How important was that? A rose is still a rose, in spite of what you call it. I have always been in favor of girls in the organization for, in spite of many so-called modern moral issues, many of these girls will become wives, possibly even farmers' wives, and as long as you enjoy eating there will be room for agriculture and related industries. And these girls, as partners in the program, should know what it is all about. Do you agree?

During the 1960's there was much cry in FFA circles for more finesse and format during a meeting. Did they overlook the fact that the purpose of any meeting is accomplishment? Also during the 1960's soil and range judging was started in Montana FFA and 4-H circles. It appears to me that this very vital issue is losing popularity, possibly even struggling for existence. Why? Agriculture is one of Montana's basic industries. Farming methods have changed, volume production is the theme, and our soils are suffering. Montana is a range state, yet our grasslands do not produce as much as they did 50 years ago. Montana, its soils, grasslands, timber and streams, has done much for you and your parents and society. Perhaps it is now time for you to think about doing something for it. You, in FFA, should recognize this great opportunity. The computer will not grow grass for you.

I was asked to write something about the FFA in those "good old days." I know this request was not made because I had a model department, nor was I ever recognized as the top instructor in the state, so I have to assume that someone was "scraping the bottom of the barrel" to get something to put in the paper. I accept the honor.

I cannot speak for authority, for the FFA today; I was turned out to pasture quite a few years ago. I am not blind and I am not deaf and I can still read — even though I don't believe everything I read — but when I put all these things in a pot and stir them a bit, I come up with some feelings that I believe are not too far wrong. I was listening to several high school kids discussing the gas situation the other day. One very knowledgeable young fellow said, "Gas rationing won't work. The people won't stand for it. I have a right for gas for my car when it needs it" Was he thinking about the needs of the people or was he thinking about himself? How many of you realize that we had gas rationing in 1942 and 1943. I was able to get some gas, but not all I wanted, but I got by. Perhaps it may come to this again. This young fellow is a typical product of what I call the "me" generation. I hope that you in FFA are not entirely misled by this philosophy. I have a great respect for the Aims and Purposes of FFA. Sure, they are old, out of style — or are they?

You in FFA have a great responsibility today, possibly greater than at any time in history. The "politicians" are thinking of votes. Business is thinking in terms of profits. Society is thinking of "me." So it is definitely up to you to try and keep this old ship in the middle of the stream. The opportunity for good leadership was never greater. Good luck!

I remember reading, a long time ago, a little piece which began as follows:
"I believe in the future of farming with a faith born not of words but of deeds . . ."
Maybe you, too, have read it. It's a good idea, stick with it.

Vocational Agriculture: The Next 50 Years

By Max L. Amberson

It is said that anyone in Montana who tries to predict the weather is either a new comer or a fool. Trying to predict or forecast the future of vocational agriculture for the next 50 years could be equally hazardous. The only basis for prediction is the happenings of the past and the present state of the art in vocational agriculture.

Vocational Agriculture

The future growth and development of vocational agriculture will be measured by how well programs serve the personal needs of students and the industry of agriculture it serves. Vocational agriculture programs will not automatically remain a part of the school and community just because historically they have been a part of the school curriculum. The school system now and in the future will look at every school program and hold each accountable. Each program in the school will need to stand the test of critical evaluation. Evaluation conducted by people in society that may not be as knowledgeable or sympathetic to agriculture because they are more removed from it. It is now evident at all policy levels that agriculture is less well represented than in the past. Possible tests to which vocational agriculture programs will be put are: 1) Does enrolling in vocational agriculture programs make a difference in the personal characteristic of the students who graduate from these programs? 2) Are students of vocational agriculture able to enter and advance in agriculture more readily than students who do not enroll in agriculture? 3) Will programs of vocational agriculture be specifically tailored to meet the needs of agribusiness and will they hire and advance these employees readily into their business? Vocational agriculture that can look at their past history, pull out the necessary facts, and satisfy the above tests will survive, especially when programs of vocational agriculture are more accountable than programs that are unable to quantify their worth. In most Montana communities it is easy to point to the successes of former vocational agriculture students. These leading citizens and their performance in the community is the kind of accountability that is meaningful.

Programs Not Courses

Programs, not courses, of vocational agriculture must be offered in the future. Programs of vocational agriculture which integrate classroom, laboratory, supervised occupational experience programs and leadership training through membership in FFA are the types of programs that historically have been accountable. Agriculture courses of short duration which do not integrate laboratory or supervised experience programs, of FFA have not and probably will not meet accountability tests and therefore will not survive. Too, all vocational instructional programs in agriculture will need to rethink their curriculum with the involvement of advisory councils. Citizens will ultimately determine the programs future and thus must be involved in helping set up the program.

FFA — Leadership Laboratory

FFA develops leadership. It's a proven fact. So much so that unfortunately people even identify the vocational agriculture programs as an "FFA Program." Leading farmers, ranchers, legislators, businessmen, teachers, ministers all acclaim the values of their experience through involvement in FFA when they were students of vocational agriculture. They all realize in retrospect that everyone entering agriculture needs a generous supply of these skills if they are to succeed in life and on a job. The leadership skills learned by active participation in the FFA unfortunately reaches too few people. It must be the goal of vocational agriculture teachers that basic leadership skills be developed by 100% of their students. In order for this to happen, FFA will need to make some changes. It must become understood that every student who enrolls in vocational agriculture is a member of FFA. Students may not choose to be active members immediately, but will surely benefit from the exposure to leadership experiences and later may become active. We must guard against the FFA being an organization separate and apart from the vocational agriculture program. It must remain as one of the strong links within the vocational agriculture program.

In the future, it may mean that FFA will become a bit more informal and relaxed. It will emphasize the benefits of developing leadership characteristics and a philosophy of service. There may be less emphasis on contests, competition, awards, and making money. The FFA organization will mature; become the tool to develop the values of students. In the future, leadership for the agriculture/agri-business sector will just normally come from students who have completed a vocational agriculture program and having been an active member of FFA.

In the future, nearly every community who has a vocational agriculture program will have a strong alumni organization. The experiences gained while at school will spur these people into wanting to continue their affiliation with the FFA. The strength of FFA the next 50 years, will in my mind, be directly correlated with how well teachers, schools and communities develop the 50 year old philosophy of program — which includes its four major components. Hopefully in the next 50 years people will identify with programs of "Vocational Agriculture/Agribusiness Education" rather than the "FFA Program" — this should be our major challenge.

75th Anniversary Committee

The committee first met at the 2004 State FFA Convention in Great Falls. Its work concluded at the 2006 Convention in Bozeman. The function of the committee was to design, create, and assist in implementing 75th celebrations and activities at the state and chapter levels, and reconnecting alumni.

The major launch of the 75th celebration occurred at the 2005 state convention held in Bozeman. Over 300 former members, officers, former and current advisors and their spouses convened at the MSU football stadium club for a grand reception. This was followed by all past state officers and advisors present being recognized at the convention general session. Artist Don Greytak of Havre was on hand to unveil his pencil art created for the celebration.

The 75th celebration concluded Friday, March 31, 2005 with an alumni gathering at Bozeman's GranTree, unveiling of the 75th printed history by Editor Van Shelhamer and video history by State Advisor Bill Jimmerson. An auction to benefit the FFA Foundation and the Montana Alumni Association was also held at the GranTree. The sealing of the 75th time capsule occurred at the State convention general session.
