

Bulls for Blue Grant Guidelines

Purpose.

The Bulls for Blue program is designed to support FFA members starting their own beef production project. Funds generated from Montana seedstock producer contributions provide on-going program support for members and start-up funds for Supervised Agricultural Experiences (SAE) in the beef industry. Students interested in beef SAEs can use these funds to purchase cows, secure leased ground for grazing, and other costs associated with their project.

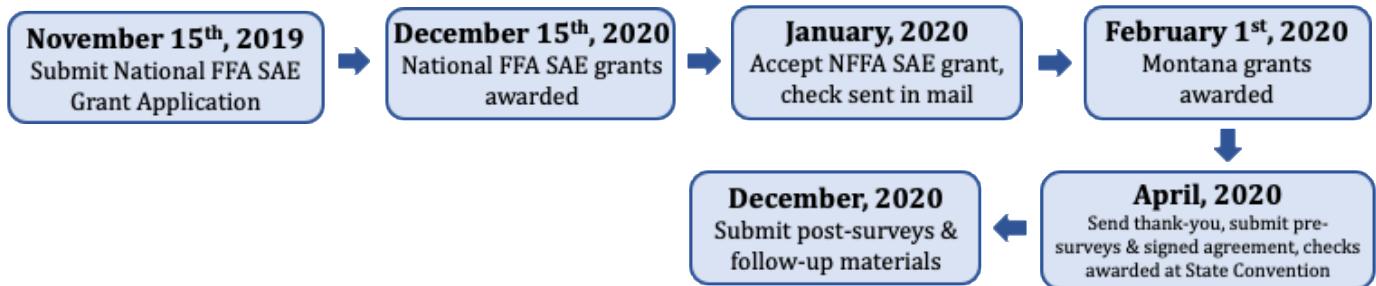

Who can apply.

Any active Montana FFA member who will be an active member is eligible to apply for this grant.

Application timeline.

The grant cycle is ten months length from the date that grants are awarded (February through December). Montana uses the National FFA SAE Grant application, which dually submits student applications to be reviewed for a National FFA SAE Grant in addition to Montana FFA SAE and Bulls for Blue Grants: ffa.org > Participate > Grants & Scholarships > SAE Grants > Apply Now!
